Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction Peter Ferry, 2014-08-21 Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction is an interdisciplinary study that presents masculinity as a key thematic concern in contemporary New York fiction This study argues that New York authors do not simply depict masculinity as a social and historical construction but seek to challenge the archetypal ideals of masculinity by writing counter hegemonic narratives Gendering canonical New York writers namely Paul Auster Bret Easton Ellis and Don DeLillo illustrates how explorations of masculinity are tied into the principal themes that have defined the American novel from its very beginning. The themes that feature in this study include the role of the novel in American society, the individual and urban society, the journey from innocence to awareness of masculinity, the archetypal image of the absent and/or patriarchal father, the impact of homosocial relations on the everyday performance of masculinity, male sexuality and the male individual and globalization. What connects these contemporary New York writers is their employment of the one of the great figures in the history of literature, the flâneur. These authors take the flâneur from the shadows of the Manhattan streets and elevate this figure to the role of self-reflexive agent of male subjectivity through which they write counter-hegemonic narratives of masculinity. This book is an essential reference for those with an interest in gender studies and contemporary American fiction.

Three Tiptree Award-Winning Novels Eleanor Arnason, Elizabeth Hand, Nancy Springer, 2018-03-06. Groundbreaking provocative novels that challenge gender assumptions in stories of aliens and humans, women and men, and the shifting nature of identity. The James Tiptree Jr Award was established to acknowledge works of science fiction or fantasy that expand or explore our understanding of gender. The three novels in this collection each embody that continually evolving challenge in boldly original and highly imaginative ways.

A Woman of the Iron People The inaugural winner of the Tiptree Award in 1991, this excellent anthropologically oriented SF tale. Publishers Weekly examines the fear and fascination on both sides when a group of human scientists discovers an advanced yet seemingly primitive alien culture. Fascinating. Very wise and funny. Full of complicated and irresistible people, some of them human.

Ursula K. Le Guin: Waking the Moon Nebula Award-winning author Elizabeth Hand serves up a seductive post-feminist thriller in which a college freshman accidentally discovers the existence of the Benandanti, a clandestine order devoted to suppressing the powerful Moon Goddess and secretly manipulating the world's governments and institutions. A potent socio-erotic ghost story.

William Gibson: Larque on the Wing A middle-aged housewife's thoughts become reality when her rebellious inner child takes control and she transforms herself into a fearless gay man. This is a moving, funny, surprising, and transcendent tale of one woman's unusual quest to come to terms with who she truly is.

Springer effectively uses fantasy to evoke midlife soul searching. An engrossing novel about gender and self-formation. Publishers Weekly

Multimodal Stylistics of the Novel Nina Nørgaard, 2018-10-08 This book advocates for a new analytical framework that extends our understanding of multimodal meaning making in the novel Integrating theoretical traditions from stylistics and the influential social semiotic approach to multimodal communication developed by Kress and van Leeuwen Nørgaard applies this method of analysis in order to build on existing stylistic practices that look at linguistic features in the novel to encompass other semiotic resources found in the form such as typography layout images paper and book cover design The volume grounds the discussion with supporting examples from novels that feature experimentation with multiple semiotic resources as well as more traditional novels furthering the argument that all novels are inherently multimodal Offering new insights and tools for unpacking multimodal meaning making in this critical literary genre this volume is an indispensable resource for graduate students and researchers in multimodality stylistics and literary studies

Martin Buber and continues with Auster's exploration of his Jewish heritage in Wall Writing his rediscovery of the American objectivists in Disappearances and his encounters with the visual arts in Fragments from Cold Subsequent
