only to see but also to hear how mass mediated culture engenders new understandings of race The book traces the changing sounds of race across some of the best known rap songs of the past thirty five years combining song level analysis with historical contextualization to show how these representations of identity depend on specific artistic decisions such as those related to how producers make beats Each chapter explores the process behind the production of hit songs by musicians including Grandmaster Flash and the Furious Five The Sugarhill Gang Run D M C Public Enemy N W A Dr Dre and Eminem This series of case studies highlights stylistic differences in sound lyrics and imagery with musical examples and illustrations that help answer the core question can we hear race in rap songs Integrating theory from interdisciplinary areas this book will resonate with students and scholars of popular music race relations urban culture ethnomusicology sound studies and beyond

Language Obsolescence and Revitalization Mari C. Jones, 1998 The territorial contraction and speaker reduction undergone by the Welsh language during the past few centuries has resulted in its categorization by many linguists as an obsolescent language This study illustrates that although it is undeniably showing some signs of decline Welsh stands in marked contrast to many previously documented cases of language death Against this backdrop of contraction a steady revitalization is taking place Based upon extensive fieldwork in two sociolinguistically contrasting communities this book is the first to examine the position and nature of contemporary Welsh with reference to both obsolescence related developments and changes under way in the dialects Jones focuses on immersion education long heralded as the saviour of the language and by examining the variety of Welsh being produced by immersion pupils seeks to determine whether this claim is justified or whether such pupils are in fact speaking immersion As well as discussing the recent linguistic change shown by contemporary Welsh within the language death framework the author examines the ways in which the language has been standardized and their repercussions for language maintenance By way of comparison these tensions and implications are also explored with reference to the other varieties of P Celtic namely Breton and Cornish
