Violence and Dystopia Daniel Cojocaru,2015-09-18 Violence and Dystopia is a critical examination of imitative desire scapegoating and sacrifice in selected contemporary Western dystopian narratives through the lens of Ren Girard s mimetic theory The first chapter offers an overview of the history of Western utopia dystopia with a special emphasis on the problem of conflictive mimesis and scapegoating violence and a critical introduction to Girard s theory The second chapter is devoted to J G Ballard s seminal novel Crash 1973 Chuck Palahniuk s Fight Club 1996 and Rant 2007 and Brad Anderson s film The Machinist 2004 It is argued that the car crash functions as a metaphor for conflictive mimetic desire and leads to a quasi sacrificial crisis as defined by Girard for archaic religion The third chapter focuses on the psychogeographical writings of Iain Sinclair and Peter Ackroyd Walking the streets of London the pedestrian represents the excluded underside of the world of Ballardian speed The walking subject is portrayed in terms of the expelled victim of Girardian theory The fourth chapter considers violent crowds as portrayed by Ballard s late fiction the writings of Stewart Home and David Peace s GB84 2004 In accordance with Girard s hypothesis the discussed narratives reveal the failure of scapegoat expulsion to restore peace to the potentially self destructive violent crowds The fifth chapter examines the post apocalyptic environments resulting from failed scapegoat expulsion and mimetic conflict out of control as portrayed in Sinclair s Radon Daughters 1994 Margaret Atwood s The Handmaid s Tale 1985 and Oryx and Crake 2003 and Will Self s The Book of Dave 2006 Patient X David

Peace,2019-08-20 In these twelve interconnected tales David Peace acclaimed author of the Red Riding Quartet Occupied City and Tokyo Year Zero weaves fact and fiction as he takes up the brief but fiercely lived life of the early twentieth century Japanese writer Ry nosuke Akutagawa Unique and offbeat Patient X delves into Akutagawa s rich and complicated private life his fears and battles with mental illness his complex reaction to the Westernization of Japan his exacting creative process and his suicide weaving these facets into a hauntingly evocative portrait But Patient X is more than a paean to one remarkable writer it is also an incandescent exploration of the act and obsession of writing itself and of the role of the artist in times that darkly mirror our own Revisiting the Yorkshire Ripper Murders Louise Wattis, 2018-12-28 Between 1975 and 1980 Peter Sutcliffe who became known as the Yorkshire Ripper murdered 13 women in the North of England The murders provoked widespread fear amongst women and impacted the public consciousness at both the local and national level This book revisits the case applying a feminist and cultural criminological lens to explore a range of criminological concerns relating to gender violence and victimhood Combining research findings from oral history interviews analysis of popular criminological texts and academic commentary this volume explores what the case can tell us about feminism fear of crime gender and serial murder and the representation of victims and sex workers The volume contributes to a creative cultural criminology highlighting how excavating recent criminal history and reading across texts presents new ways for understanding violence gender and representation in the contemporary context Sport, Media and Regional Identity Simon Roberts, 2015-11-25 The increasing potency of identity politics across Europe often sees sport acting as a vehicle for the promotion and celebration of regional and sub national identities However while the relationship between sport the media and national identity has featured in numerous academic and political debates in recent years the links between sports media and regional identity have received little attention This seems a curious oversight because the links between sport and region frequently become a celebration of the local and the distinctive emblematic of community and continuity This volume will explore that sense of the counter hegemonic where sport is celebrated by a media often keen to promote notions of difference which might verge on rebellion in some contexts conceived as resisting global homogeneity or national hegemony At other times they may merely reflect a commercial nose for the local audience s tastes but there is always the sense of preserving something important a celebration of the diversity that makes us human This book considers the centrality and cultural significance of particular sports or clubs to regional and sub national identities across Europe and beyond adopting a comparative approach to the mediatized nature of such portrayals Contemporary Masculinities in Fiction, Film and Television Brian Baker, 2016-07-28 While masculinity has been an increasingly visible field of study within several disciplines sociology literary studies cultural studies film and tv over the last two decades it is surprising that analysis of contemporary representations of the first part of the century has yet to emerge Professor Brian Baker evolving from his previous work Masculinities in Fiction and Film Representing Men in Popular Genres 1945-2000 intervenes to rectify the scholarship in the field to produce a wide ranging readable text that deals with films and other texts produced since the year 2000 Focusing on representations of masculinity in cinema popular fiction and television from the period 2000-2010 he argues that dominant forms of masculinity in Britain and the United States have become increasingly informed by anxiety trauma and loss and this has resulted in both narratives that reflect that trauma and others which attempt to return to a more complete and heroic form of masculinity While focusing on a range of popular genres such as Bond films war movies science fiction and the Gothic the work places close analyses of individual films and texts in their cultural and historical contexts arguing for the importance of these popular fictions in diagnosing how contemporary Britain and the United States understand themselves and their changing role in the world through the representation of men fully recognising the issues of race ethnicity class sexuality and age Baker draws upon current work in mobility studies and in the study of masculinities to produce the first book length comparative study of masculinity in popular culture of the first decade of the twenty first century
