MacMillan,Kyeong Seok Han,2007-12-27 With the rise of the knowledge economy the knowledge content of goods and services is going up just as their material content is declining Economic value is increasingly seen to reside in the former that is in intangible assets rather than in the latter Yet we keep wanting to turn knowledge back into something tangible something with definite boundaries which can be measured manipulated appropriated and traded In short we want to reify knowledge Scholars have been debating the nature of knowledge since the time of Plato Many new insights have been gained from these debates but little theoretical consensus has been achieved Through six thematically linked chapters the book articulates the theoretical approach to the production and distribution of knowledge that underpins Max Boisot s conceptual framework the Information

Space or I Space In this way the book looks to provide theoretical and practical underpinnings to Boisot's book Knowledge Assets OUP 1998 Following an introductory chapter how knowledge relates to data and information is first examined in chapter 1 and how different economic actors entrepreneurs managers etc use knowledge as a basis for action is explored in chapter 2 Chapter 3 looks at how the heterogeneity of economic actors arises naturally from their respective data processing strategies in spite of any similarities in the data that they might share Chapter 4 argues contra much transaction based economics that an organizational order must have preceded a market order something that should be reflected in any knowledge based theory of the firm Chapter 5 discusses the cultural and institutional significance of different kinds of knowledge flows Finally chapter 6 presents an agent based simulation model SimISpace that illustrates how the I Space might be applied to concrete problems such those of intellectual property rights A concluding chapter proposes a research agenda based on the theorizing developed in the book The approach the book sets out is used by a whole range of organizations to issues of knowledge management policy economics and organizational and cultural change

Space, Mobility, and Crisis in Mega-Event Organisation Rodanthi Tzanelli,2022-11-25 This book advances an alternative critical posthumanist approach to mega event organisation taking into account both the new and the old crises which humanity and our planet face Taking the delayed Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games as a case study Tzanelli explores mega event crisis and risk management in the era of extreme urbanisation natural disasters global pandemic and technoscientific control Using the atmospheric term irradiation a technology of glamour and transparency as well as bodily penetration by harmful agents and strong affects the book explores this epistemological statement diachronically via Tokyo's relationship with Western forms of domination and synchronically the city as a global cultural political player but victim of climate catastrophes. It presents how the Olympic enterprise's flattening of indigenous environmental place making rhythms and the scientisation of space and place in the Anthropocene lead to reductionisms harmful for a viable programme of planetary recovery. An experimental study of the mega event is enacted which considers the researcher's analytical tools and the styles of human and non human mobility during the mega event as reflexive gateways to forms of posthuman flourishing. Crossing and bridging disciplinary boundaries the book will appeal to any scholar interested in mobilities theory event and environment studies sociology of knowledge and cultural globalisation.

Process approaches to organization studies focus on flow activities and evolution understanding organizations and organizing as processes in the making. Each chapter addresses the background and context of this thinker their work with a focus on the processual elements and the potential contribution to organization and management research. For students and scholars in the field of Organization Studies this book is an entry point into the work of philosophical thinkers and social theorists for whom the world is far from being a solid place.
