worst And what on earth is anybody doing about it Dublin based writer Mark O Connell is consumed by these questions and as the father of two young children he finds them increasingly urgent In Notes from an Apocalypse he crosses the globe in pursuit of answers He tours survival bunkers in South Dakota He ventures to New Zealand a favored retreat of billionaires banking on civilization's collapse He engages with would be Mars colonists preppers right wing conspiracists And he bears witness to places like Chernobyl that the future has already visited real life portraits of the end of the world as we know it What emerges is an absorbing funny and deeply felt book about our anxious present tense and coming to grips with what s The Wild Red Deer of Scotland - Notes from an Island Forest on Deer, Deer Stalking, and Deer Forests in the Scottish Highlands Alan Gordon Cameron, 2013-04-16 The Wild Red Deer of Scotland Notes from an Island Forest on Deer Deer Stalking and Deer Forests in the Scottish Highlands By Allan Gordon Cameron Originally published in the early 1920 s this scarce deer stalking title is now very hard to locate in its first edition READ COUNTRY BOOKS have now republished it using the original text maps and illustrations. The author was an experienced stalker and naturalist who wrote many articles for the sporting journals of that era The life of a Scottish hill stag is a phenomenon without parallel in the natural history of the species and this book will prove of great interest to all with an interest in field sports and nature Two hundred and sixty five pages contain fifteen detailed chapters including Deer Stalking Old and New The Hill Stag and the Hill Stalk A Naturalist in the Deer Forest Calving Birth Rate etc Habits Duration of Life Stalking Methods Antlers four chapters Deer Forest Reforms The Ideal Forest Deer Distribution etc This is a fascinating read for any stalking enthusiast or historian of the species and contains much information that is still useful and practical today Many of the earliest sporting books particularly those dating back to the 1800s are now extremely scarce and very expensive READ COUNTRY BOOKS are republishing these classic works in affordable high quality modern editions using the original text and artwork Catalogue of an Exhibition of One Hundred Famous First Editions in English and French Literature from December 1st to 14th, 1909 Ernest By-ways on Service: Notes from an Australian Journal Hector Dinning, 2022-07-21 Hector Dinning s Dressel North, 1834 By ways on Service Notes from an Australian Journal offers a candid retrospective of Australian soldiers experiences during World War I emphasizing their time spent in Egypt and the Suez Canal Zone Crafted with an unassumingly light touch that borders on the irreverent Dinning's narrative weaves descriptions of Middle Eastern locales with the emotional journey of soldiers far from home contrasting the soldiers transient discontent with their enduring affection for their first encounter with a world beyond Australia In its literary style the book deftly balances informal observations with deeper introspections providing readers with a personal yet historically contextualized account that extends beyond traditional war narratives concerned solely with the Western Front Prior to authoring this nuanced journal Hector Dinning served with Australian forces a background that furnishes him with the authenticity of a participant turned storyteller His personal experiences the camaraderie among soldiers and their evolving perceptions of foreign lands are recounted with the credibility of one who has lived the serviceman's life Dinning's unique perspective not only chronicles military life but also captures the spirit of the time presenting a multifaceted picture of an era and its people shaped by the crucible of war and the allure of new horizons Readers will find By ways on Service to be a poignant and enlightening read recommended for history enthusiasts interested in soldierly experiences beyond the battlefield and fans of travel literature seeking insights into the mindset of Australian soldiers encountering the Middle East during a time of global upheaval Dinning invites his audience to ponder the guieter yet equally transformative aspects of service life and reminds us of the enduring human narratives that are etched into the annals of history amid tales of strife and valor By-Ways On Active Service; Notes From An Australian Journal Captain Hector William Dinning, 2014-06-13 It seems strange that any book should be composed in a war zone as difficult and dangerous as the Somme area in 1917 but that is exactly what Hector Dinning did Having published a few of his pen portraits and sketches of incidents in various journals friends and colleagues pressed Dinning to collect them together and publish them as a book This he did even in the mud of the battlefield and under the shell fire of the Germans Hector Dinning was among the first Australians to volunteer for overseas service As he and his comrades sailed toward Egypt military discipline chafed at the individualism of the Australians Thankfully once in Cairo the troops were allowed leave before further transit to the hellish Gallipoli peninsula Dinning details the difficulties and carnage that he witnessed at Gallipoli and Pathos but also with some restraint given the awfulness of the battles there After only a brief rest in Egypt the author was sent to France for further action on the Somme in Picardy however as a relief and in stark contrast he tells of encounters with the French civilians behind the lines and the time that he spent out of the lines This volume takes his story up to 1917 whereupon he was transferred to the famed Australian Light Horse who were engaged in Palestine under Allenby which he recounted in his second volume of memoirs Nile to Aleppo with the Light horse in the Middle East An excellent Anzac memoir Some contemporary reviews of By Ways On Active Service He has a notable literary gift Morning Post He has seen strange things with intensely keen eyes Daily Express He is a vivid writer with a keen eye for detail and a direct way of setting it down which grips the attention Times He sees things with fresh and observing eyes and he has a most receptive mind Punch He can write Sydney Bulletin He has a striking literary gift Archibald Strong in Melbourne Herald Notes on the history of University college, London. protect him from were constantly colliding with me and I felt I was failing miserably at both I was not living up to my duty as a parent 3 The end of the world is extremely dull I am fed up with climate change which is a form of apocalypse and I am also bored by it 4 The apocalypse in both its religious and secular forms has always been a sudden flash of divine or technological power We don't know how to make sense of the current mutated form of the end times so we just accept it gifts.
