Passive and Active Measurement Thomas Karagiannis,Xenofontas Dimitropoulos,2016-03-23 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 17th International Conference on Passive and Active Measurement PAM 2016 held in Heraklion Crete Greece in March April 2016 The 30 full papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 93 submissions They are organized in topical sections named security and privacy mobile and cellular the last mile testbeds and frameworks web DNS and routing IXPs and MPLS and scheduling and timing The Future X Network Marcus K.

Weldon,2018-09-03 We are at the dawn of an era in networking that has the potential to define a new phase of human existence This era will be shaped by the digitization and connection of everything and everyone with the goal of automating much of life effectively creating time by maximizing the efficiency of everything we do and augmenting our intelligence with knowledge that expedites and optimizes decision making and everyday routines and processes The Future X Network A Bell Labs Perspective outlines how Bell Labs sees this future unfolding and the key technological breakthroughs needed at both the architectural and systems levels Each chapter of the book is dedicated to a major area of change and the network and systems innovation required to realize the technological revolution that will be the essential product of this new digital future

Johnstone,2021-04-23 Advancements in Biomass Feedstock Preprocessing: Conversion Ready Feedstocks J. Richard Hess,Allison E. Ray,Timothy G. Rials,2020-03-12 The success of lignocellulosic biofuels and biochemical industries depends upon an economic and reliable supply of quality biomass However research and development efforts have historically focused on the utilization of agriculturally derived cellulosic feedstocks without consideration of their low energy density high variations in physical and chemical characteristics and potential supply risks in terms of availability and affordability This Research Topic will explore strategies that enable supply chain improvements in biomass quality and consistency through blending preprocessing diversity and landscape design for development of conversion ready lignocellulosic feedstocks for production of biofuels and bio products Biomass variability has proven a formidable challenge to the emerging biorefining industry impeding continuous operation and reducing yields required for economical production of lignocellulosic biofuels at scale Conventional supply systems lack the preprocessing capabilities necessary to ensure consistent biomass feedstocks with physical and chemical properties that are compatible with supply chain operations and conversion processes Direct coupling of conventional feedstock supply systems with sophisticated conversion systems has reduced the operability of biorefining processes to less than 50% As the bioeconomy grows the inherent variability of biomass resources cannot be managed by passive means alone As such there is a need to fully recognize the magnitude of biomass variability and uncertainty as well as the cost of failing to design feedstock supply systems that can mitigate biomass variability and uncertainty A paradigm shift is needed from biorefinery designs using raw single resource biomass to advanced feedstock supply systems that harness diverse biomass resources to enable supply chain resilience and development of conversion ready feedstocks Blending and preprocessing e g drying sorting sizing fractionation leaching densification etc can mitigate variable quality and performance in diverse resources when integrated with downstream conversion systems Decoupling feedstock supply from biorefining provides an opportunity to manage supply risks and incorporate value added upgrading to develop feedstocks with improved convertibility and or market fungibility Conversion ready feedstocks have undergone the required preprocessing to ensure compatibility with conversion and utilization prior to delivery at the biorefinery and represent lignocellulosic biomass with physical and chemical properties that are tailored to meet the requirements of industrially relevant handling and conversion systems

Wagner,2017-03-07 The Assassination of JFK Perspectives Half a Century Later is the result of a reconciliation of widely divergent views of the assassination and who was responsible For more than fifty years the JFK assassination has ignited impassioned argument from those who believe the Warren Commission's conclusion that one man Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in killing President John F Kennedy and those who believe that the assassination was spearheaded by the KGB Castro the mob anti Castro revolutionaries the military complex the CIA or even Kennedy's successor Lyndon Baines Johnson to name only a few The conspiracy theories are almost too numerous to list and even include the fervent belief that Kennedy's body was stolen prior to autopsy on the very evening of the assassination for the purpose of doctoring the body to frame Oswald Bob Wagner digs into the enormous record of the assassination created by two government investigations and thousands of books and articles written by investigators researchers and historians Bob describes the divergent views as being akin to two groups dividing the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle in half and attempting to produce complete pictures with their incomplete pieces Once all the puzzle pieces are organized and properly fit together however as Bob's painstaking work shows a real picture emerges and the truth comes into focus Bob thoroughly reviews the head spinning morass of fact conjecture and conspiracy theories regarding the assassination of JFK and makes them understandable to those knowing little about the assassination much less all of the conspiracy theories that abound The Assassination of JFK Perspectives Half a Century Later presents the clearest case against Arlen Specter's infamous single bullet theory while also demonstrating why it is clear that Lee Harvey Oswald fired the only shots in Dealey Plaza on November 22 1963 Visit JFKassassinationperspectives.com for more information and to comment

Electricity Markets with Increasing Levels of Renewable Generation: Structure, Operation, Agent-based Simulation, and Emerging Designs Fernando Lopes, Helder Coelho, 2018-02-14 This book describes the common ground between electricity markets EMs and software agents or artificial intelligence generally It presents an up to date introduction to EMs and intelligent agents and offers a comprehensive description of the research advances and key achievements related to existing and emerging market designs to reliably and efficiently manage the potential challenges of variable generation VG Most EMs are unique in their complex relationships between economics and the physics of energy but were created without the notion that large penetrations of variable generation VG would be part of the supply mix An advanced multi agent approach simulates the behavior of power markets over time particularly markets with large scale

penetrations of renewable resources It is intended as a reference book for researchers academics and industry practitioners but given the scope of the chapters and the highly accessible style the book also provides a coherent foundation for several different graduate courses Cometography: Volume 6, 1983-1993 Gary W. Kronk, Maik Meyer, David A. J.

Seargent, 2017-04-20 Cometography is a multi volume catalog of every comet observed from ancient times up to the 1990s when the internet took off as a medium of scientific record It uses the most reliable orbits known to determine the distances from the Earth and Sun at the time of discovery and last observation as well as the largest and smallest angular distance to the Sun most northerly and southerly declination closest distance to the Earth and other details to enable the reader to understand each comet's physical appearance Volume 6 the final volume in the catalog covers the observations and pertinent calculations for every comet seen between 1983 and 1993 The comets are listed in chronological order with complete references to publications relating to each comet and physical descriptions of each comet's development throughout its apparition Cometography is the definitive reference on comets through the ages for astronomers and historians of science

Engineering Rumen Metabolic Pathways: Where We Are, and Where Are We Heading Emilio M. Ungerfeld, C. James Newbold, 2018-03-13 Ruminants were domesticated in the Middle East about 10 000 years ago and have since become an inseparable part of human diet society and culture Ruminants can transform inedible plant fiber and non protein nitrogen into meat milk wool and traction thus allowing human utilization of non tillable land and industrial by products The nutritional flexibility of ruminants is conferred by the rumen's complex microbial community Driven by rising income and population growth in emergent economies the global demand for livestock products including milk and meat from ruminants has been increasingly growing and is predicted to continue growing in the next few decades The increase in production necessary to satisfy this rising demand is putting much pressure on already dwindling natural resources There are also concerns about the emissions of methane and nitrous oxide potent greenhouse gases associated to ruminant production The need to make ruminant production more efficient in the use of natural resources poses a big challenge to ruminant science and within it rumen microbiology Recent years have seen important advances in basic and applied rumen microbiology and biochemistry The knowledge generated has significant implications for the efficiency and sustainability of ruminant production and the quality of ruminant products for human health The present compilation is an update of recent advances in rumen microbiology and ruminant digestion and fermentation including original research reviews and hypothesis and theory articles We hope that the experimental results discussion models and ideas presented herein are useful to foster future research contributing to sustainable ruminant production In vivo Cell Biology of Cerebral Cortical Development and Its Related Neurological Disorders: Cellular Insights into Neurogenesis and Neuronal Migration Takeshi Kawauchi, Margareta Nikolić, Yoko Arai, 2016-09-21 The brain consists of a complex but precisely organized neural network which provides the structural basis of higher order functions Such a complex structure originates from a simple

pseudostratified neuroepithelium During the developing mammalian cerebral cortex a cohort of neural progenitors located near the ventricle differentiates into neurons and exhibits multi step modes of migration toward the pial surface Tight regulation of neurogenesis and neuronal migration is essential for the determination of the neuron number in adult brains and the proper positioning of excitatory and inhibitory neurons in a specific layer respectively In addition defects in neurogenesis and neuronal migration can cause several neurological disorders such as microcephaly periventricular heterotopia and lissencephaly Recent advances in genetic approaches to study the developing cerebral cortex as well as the use of a number of novel techniques particularly in vivo electroporation and time lapse analyses using explant slice cultures have significantly increased our understanding of cortical development These novel techniques have allowed for cell biological analyses of cerebral cortical development in vivo or ex vivo showing that many cellular events including endocytosis cell adhesion microtubule and actin cytoskeletal regulation neurotransmitter release stress response the consequence of cellular crowding physical force dynamics of transcription factors midbody release and polarity transition are required for neurogenesis and or neuronal migration The aim of this research topic is to highlight molecular and cellular mechanisms underlying cerebral cortical development and its related neurological disorders from the cell biological point of views such as cell division cell cycle regulation cytoskeletal organization cell adhesion and membrane trafficking The topic has been organized into three chapters 1 neurogenesis and cell fate determination 2 neuronal migration and 3 cortical development related neurological disorders We hope that the results and discussions contributed by all authors in this research topic will be broadly useful for further advances in basic research as well as improvements in the etiology and care of patients suffering from neurological and psychiatric disorders
