Predictive model for skin disease in animals Utpal shrivastava,2019-05-27 There exists various experts system for skin disease diagnosis by using image processing These models were implemented only for humans and plants skin disease detection No model has been implemented for disease diagnosis among the animals Different image segmentation algorithms are in place which vary for different types of images like disease affected image medical image etc There are many classification techniques algorithms and classifiers are available to distinguish the data into various classes Each algorithm has their own benefits and drawbacks Here the proposed system has been implemented by using image processing for skin disease detection in animals In this approach two common disease i e Alopecia Ringworm has been taken This proposed system used k means clustering algorithm for image segmentation and SVM classifier to do classification of data in two different classes Experiments are performed on available data to measure the accuracy and effectiveness of system The proposed system also measures the execution time for each and every image of disease This is investigated that which features have large impact on the developed methodology Experimental results show the effectiveness of this model

Governing Agricultural Sustainability Phil Macnaghten,Susana Carro-Ripalda,2015-06-26 Although GM crops are seen by their advocates as a key component of the future of world agriculture and as part of the solution for world poverty and hunger their uptake has not been smooth nor universal they have been marred by controversy and all too commonly their regulation has been challenged as inadequate even biased This book aims to understand these dynamics examining the impacts of GM crops in diverse contexts and their potentials to contribute to sustainable agricultural futures Part 1 draws on research from three global rising powers Brazil India and Mexico exploring the views of scientists farmers and publics Using a diverse array of ethnographic and qualitative methodologies the book examines the dynamics that have underpinned the controversy in three diverse geo political contexts the manner in which dominant institutional framings have been closely aligned with the interests of powerful elites and the multiple ways in which these have been resisted through local symbolic and material practices Part 2 comprises a series of short comment pieces from 11 leading social and natural scientists responding to the question of how to develop a policy framework for the responsible innovation of sustainable culturally appropriate and socially just agricultural GM technologies This innovative book offers new insights for researchers and postgraduates in Science and technology studies Agro ecology and Environmental Studies Development studies Anthropology Human Geography Sociology Political Science Public Administration Latin American studies and Asian studies State, Land and Democracy in Southern Africa Arrigo Pallotti, Corrado Tornimbeni, 2016-03-03 Each country in southern Africa has a unique history but in all of them socio economic inequalities and high poverty levels weaken the governments legitimacy and represent a challenge to models of economic development One key issue appears to be the solution of the land question This vital concern affects both citizenship and democracy in the political systems of the region yet no government has shown the capacity or commitment to solve it In this volume leading European American and African scholars explore in detail the relationship between state land and democracy They examine the historical background of asset allocation and its impact on questions of nationality the definition of citizenship human rights and the current political and economic processes in southern Africa Handbook on the Globalisation of Agriculture Guy M. Robinson, Doris A. Carson, 2015-06-29 This Handbook provides insights to the ways in which globalisation is affecting the whole agri food system from farms to the consumer It covers themes including the physical basis of agriculture the influence of trade policies the nature of globalis Food for All in Africa Gordon Conway, Ousmane Badiane, Katrin Glatzel, 2019-11-15 Africa requires a new agricultural transformation that is appropriate for Africa that recognizes the continent s diverse environments and climates and that takes into account its histories and cultures while benefiting rural smallholder farmers and their families In this boldly optimistic book Sir Gordon Conway Ousmane Badiane and Katrin Glatzel describe the key challenges faced by Africa s smallholder farmers and present the concepts and practices of Sustainable Intensification SI as opportunities to sustainably transform Africa s agriculture sector and the livelihoods of millions of smallholders The way forward they write will be an agriculture sector deeply rooted within SI producing more with less using fertilizers and pesticides more prudently adapting to climate change improving natural capital adopting new technologies and building resilience at every stage of the agriculture value chain Food for All in Africa envisions a virtuous circle generated through agricultural development rooted in SI that results in greater yields healthier diets improved livelihoods for farmers and sustainable economic opportunities for the rural poor that in turn generate further investment It describes the benefits of digital technologies for farmers and the challenges of transforming African agricultural policies and creating effective and inspiring leadership Food for All in Africa demonstrates why we should take on the challenge and provides ideas and methods through which it can be met Management for Sustainable Development Carolina Machado,J. Paulo Davim,2022-09-01 Today increasingly more the word sustainability is present in all kinds of discussions at home at work at school in all society Conscious of the environment where we live everybody looks to find the best solutions to solve problems that result from Human Being evolution Management for a sustainable development appears as a process from which organizations try to use all its resources as well as improve its organizational and technological development in order to answer not only to the present but also to future human and social needs Only in this way is it possible to improve the quality of life Seen in this way sustainable development is understood to be people centred We have a special concern with cultural social and economic dimensions where individuals can develop together as a society whilst at the same time individual and organizational activities can be implemented without destroying the present diversity and complexity of the ecological system where we live Taking into account these concerns this book looks to cover issues related to the management for sustainable development in a context where organizations are continually facing high challenges for what concerns the items related to amongst others the re use recycling waste reduction add value low costs and time of production sustainable behaviour not only in an environmental perspective but also in an organizational perspective Today s organizations can no longer develop their practices based in the existent paradigms On the contrary it is necessary to completely break from these paradigms creating a total change of mentality in the way we manage the organizational activities Taking into account this reality managing for a sustainable development appears as a management philosophy focused in productivity improvement considering different kinds of goals such as biological economic and social systems goals Conscious of this reality this book contributes to the exchange of experiences and perspectives about the state of research related to the management for a sustainable development as well as the future direction of this research field It looks to provide a support to academics and researchers as well as those operating in the management field and who need to deal with policies and strategies related to sustainable development issues Africa's Agricultural Renaissance Ayodele Odusola,2021-06-26 This book addresses the paradox between preponderance of hunger in a continent that is well endowed with fertile agricultural land plenty of fresh water and a vibrant labor force As some statistics show close to 60% of arable land in the world is located in Africa which also has several rivers flowing in all seasons and plenty of underground water The bulk of its labor force thrives on agriculture yet the continent s largest import item is food 23 of 36 the most malnourished countries also belong in Africa This has caused significant needless human suffering This book goes beyond providing the traditional framework of supplying policy recommendations to delivering an applied innovative framework upon which policymakers the private sector and international institutions can take clear and deliberate action to stimulate Africa's agricultural sector thus responding to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development North Korea Hazel

Smith, 2015-04-06 In this historically grounded richly empirical study of social and economic transformation in North Korea Hazel Smith evaluates the marketization from below that followed the devastating famine of the early 1990s estimated to be the cause of nearly one million fatalities Smith shows how the end of the Cold War in Europe and the famine brought radical social change to all of North Korean society This major new study analyses how marketization transformed the interests expectations and values of the entire society including Party members the military women and men the young and the elderly Smith shows how the daily life of North Koreans has become alienated from the daily pronouncements of the North Korean government Challenging stereotypes of twenty five million North Koreans as mere bystanders in history Smith argues that North Koreans are neither victims nor villains but active agents of their own destiny Integrated Organic Farming

Systems: Approach for Efficient Food Production and Environmental Sustainability Subhash Babu, Sanjay Singh

Rathore, Vinod Kumar Singh, Raghavendra Singh, 2023-10-24 Researchers and policy planners are in search of a solution to address the twin challenges of maximizing agricultural production while maintaining improving ecosystem sustainability Enhancing farm productivity is needed in certain regions of the world to satisfy local food consumption and farmers' needs Linear economy based input intensive conventional agriculture CAPS has increased production output but has not made agriculture more sustainable Henceforth a farming system that aims to reduce the adverse impact on the environment as well as enhance agricultural productivity by reducing environmental footprint and improving soil health and economic wellbeing is needed in the present day Integrated organic farming systems IOFS involve residue recycling bio intensive cropping high tech horticulture mushroom dairy poultry fishery apiary etc can improve the ecosystem health and augment the income and livelihood security of the growers Worldwide IOFS are gaining popularity due to improved ecosystem services and improving farm productivity and livelihood security Hence IOFS a circular economy based reuse recycle repair agricultural production system can be alternatives to energy intensive inputs based on CAPS Hence there is an urgent need to select suitable IOFS models with proper resource optimization for productivity maximization and better ecosystem sustainability Undoubtedly IOFS reduces energy use from synthetic agrochemicals but food production in IOFS is highly dependent on fossil fuel energy that must be addressed urgently Despite the enormous positive outlooks there are several challenges in the adoption of IOFS models The IOFS is a multiproduct oriented production system that needs multi specialties and marketing Capacity building and infrastructure development are also great challenges in adopting IOFS Moreover the development of IOFS models is highly individualistic and location specific production systems need proper resource optimization and characterization Hence the development of site specific IOFS models to maintain food quality with productivity improvement is a genuine issue to the researchers which needs to be addressed Papers original research review letter to the editors spanning across the discipline related to the IOFS development in sustainable ways are encouraged for inclusion in this research topic Papers should explicitly cover ecosystem restoration farm productivity and profitability and could have a specific focus on the following areas the IOFS models for enhancing productivity and environmental quality through an integrated management approach aiming at the maximization of use efficiencies the management of biomass waste to restore the soil fertility and ecosystem services the effect of integrated management practices on greenhouse gas emissions and energy use Critical approaches for climate smart food production systems quantitatively oriented regional planners and other related disciplines It offers a source of relevant information for academic researchers and policy analysts in government and is also suitable for advanced teaching courses on regional and spatial science economics and political science Foreign Aid to the Gaza Strip between Trusteeship and De-Development Ahmed Tannira, 2020-12-15 The book examines the impact of aid to the Palestinian population in the Gaza Strip from the 1993 Oslo Agreement up to 2013 It attempts to go beyond the general notion that the Israeli occupation is the main instrument of control and de development and rather tries to investigate these aspects and the dynamics that have surrounded foreign aid delivery in the Territory At the socio economic level the book explores how donors definition of partner for peace has exacerbated socio economic inequalities within the Palestinian population in the Gaza Strip The book also looks at how foreign aid has been used as an instrument for particular groups to advance politically and through this socially and economically Hence the book attempts to investigate the resultant socio economic imbalances within Palestinian society in the Gaza Strip People - Marine Mammal Interactions Andrew Butterworth, Mark P. Simmonds, 2017-08-15 Our relationships with marine mammals are complex We have used them as resources and in some places this remains the case viewed them as competitors and culled them again ongoing in some localities been so captivated and intrigued by them that we have taken them into captivity for our entertainment and developed a lucrative eco tourism activity focused on them in many nations When we first envisaged this special topic we had two overarching aims Firstly we hoped to generate critical evaluation of some of our relationships with these animals Secondly we hoped to attract knowledgeable commentators and experts who might not traditionally publish in the peer reviewed literature We were also asking ourselves a question about what responsibility mankind might have to marine mammals on our rapidly changing planet The answer to the question can or should humans have responsibility for the lives of marine mammals when they are affected by our activities is in our opinion yes and the logical progression from this question is to direct research and effort to understand and optimise the actions reactions and responses that mankind may be able to take We hope that the papers in this special issue bring some illumination to a small selection of topics under this much wider topic area and prove to be informative and stimulating
