

THE NORTON ANTHOLOGY OF AFRICAN AMERICAN LITERATURE THIRD EDITION VOLUME 2

REALISM,
MODERNISM TO THE PRESENT

With the most extensive revision in its publishing history, The Norton Anthology of African American Literature has been reauthorized in this Third Edition through the collaboration between three new editors and seven seasoned ones. Fresh scholarship highlights the international influence of African American writers over three centuries. New selections—with an emphasis on complete longer works and contemporary writers in new visual and media, and a new more flexible, conversational format combine to make the best-selling anthology in the field an even better teaching tool for instructors and an unmatched value for students.

Cartographies of Exile Karen Elizabeth Bishop,2016-04-20 This book proposes a fundamental relationship between exile and mapping It seeks to understand the cartographic imperative inherent in the exilic condition the exilic impulses fundamental to mapping and the varied forms of description proper to both The vital intimacy of the relationship between exile and mapping compels a new spatial literacy that requires the cultivation of localized dynamic reading practices attuned to the complexities of understanding space as text and texts as spatial artifacts The collection asks what kinds of maps do exiles make How are they conceived drawn read Are they private maps or can they be shaped collectively What is their relationship to memory and history How do maps provide for new ways of imagining the fractured experience of exile and offer up both new strategies for reading displacement and new displaced reading strategies Where does exilic mapping fit into a history of cartography particularly within the twentieth century spatial turn The original work that makes up this interdisciplinary collection presents a varied look at cartographic strategies employed in writing art and film from the pre Contact Americas to the Renaissance to late postmodernism the effects of exile in its many manifestations on cartographic textual systems ways of seeing and forms of reading the challenges of traversing and mapping unstable landscapes and restrictive social and political networks and the felicities and difficulties of both giving into the map and attempting to escape the map that provides for exile in the first place Cartographies of Exile will be of interest to students and scholars working in literary and cultural studies gender sexuality and race studies anthropology art history and architecture film performance visual studies and the fine arts

The Geographies of African American Short Fiction Kenton Rambsy, 2022-03-25 Perhaps the brevity of short fiction accounts for the relatively scant attention devoted to it by scholars who have historically concentrated on longer prose narratives The Geographies of African American Short Fiction seeks to fill this gap by analyzing the ways African American short story writers plotted a diverse range of characters across multiple locations small towns a famous metropolis city sidewalks a rural wooded area apartment buildings a pond a general store a prison and more In the process these writers highlighted the extents to which places and spaces shaped or situated racial representations Presenting African American short story writers as cultural cartographers author Kenton Rambsy documents the variety of geographical references within their short stories to show how these authors make cultural spaces integral to their artwork and inscribe their stories with layered and resonant social histories The history of these short stories also documents the circulation of compositions across dozens of literary collections for nearly a century Anthology editors solidified the significance of a core group of short story authors including James Baldwin Toni Cade Bambara Charles Chesnutt Ralph Ellison Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright Using quantitative information and an extensive literary dataset The Geographies of African American Short Fiction explores how editorial practices shaped the canon of African American short fiction

Phillis Wheatley as Prophetic Poet Wallis C. Baxter III, 2022-05-04 In You Must Be Born Again Phillis Wheatley as Prophetic Poet the author argues that Phillis Wheatley is the mother of liberation theology The author uses Wheatley's poetry and life experiences to create a portrait of Wheatley beyond that of a poet Wheatley is described as both poet and visionary who wrestles with God during the creative process The lyrical expressions of Wheatley's poetry unlock the spiritual impressions on her heart The author sets up the racial dynamics of Wheatley's time and her engagement with those politics As a preacher Wheatley combats the immoral undercurrent that erodes the community's social economic and spiritual foundation as well as its political systems The author positions Wheatley as one uniquely qualified to address the hypocrisy within her world and by implication present day society by calling for immersion into a radical understanding of love and justice resulting in a renewed hope for equality and a pathway toward equity

A State-by-State History of Race and Racism in the United States Patricia Reid-Merritt, 2018-12-07 Providing chronologies of important events historical narratives from the first settlement to the present and biographies of major figures this work offers readers an unseen look at the history of racism from the perspective of individual states From the initial impact of European settlement on indigenous populations to the racial divides caused by immigration and police shootings in the 21st century each American state has imposed some form of racial restriction on its residents The United States proclaims a belief in freedom and justice for all but members of various minority racial groups have often faced a different reality as seen in such examples as the forcible dispossession of indigenous peoples during the Trail of Tears Jim Crow laws crushing discrimination of blacks and the manifest unfairness of the Chinese Exclusion Act Including the District of Columbia the 51 entries in these two volumes cover the state specific histories of all of the major minority and immigrant groups in the United States including African Americans Hispanics Asian Americans and Native Americans Every state has had a unique experience in attempting to build a community comprising multiple racial groups and the chronologies narratives and biographies that compose the entries in this collection explore the consequences of racism from states perspectives revealing distinct new insights into their respective racial histories

Half in Shadow Shanna Greene Benjamin, 2021-04-12 Nellie Y McKay 1930 2006 was a pivotal figure in contemporary American letters The author of several books McKay is best known for coediting the canon making Norton Anthology of African American Literature with Henry Louis Gates Jr which helped secure a place for the scholarly study of Black writing that had been ignored by white academia However there is more to McKay s life and legacy than her literary scholarship After her passing new details about McKay s life emerged surprising everyone who knew her Why did McKay choose to hide so many details of her past Shanna Greene Benjamin examines McKay s path through the professoriate to learn about the strategies sacrifices and successes of contemporary Black women in the American academy Benjamin shows that McKay s secrecy was a necessary tactic that a Black working class woman had to employ to succeed in the white dominated space of the American English department Using extensive archives and personal correspondence Benjamin brings together McKay s private life and public work to expand how we think about Black literary history and the place of Black women in American culture

Navigating the Fiction of Ernest J. Gaines Keith Clark, 2020-03-18 One of the South s most revered writers Ernest J Gaines attracts both popular and academic audiences Gaines s unique literary style depiction of the African American experience and celebration of the rural South s oral tradition have brought him critical praise and numerous accolades including a MacArthur Fellowship a National Humanities Medal and a National Book Critics Circle Award for his novel A Lesson before Dying In this welcome guide to Gaines s fiction Keith Clark offers insightful analyses of his novels and short stories Clark s close readings elucidate Gaines s more acclaimed works including The Autobiography of

Miss Jane Pittman and A Gathering of Old Men while also introducing lesser known but masterfully crafted pieces such as the story Three Men and the civil rights novel In My Father's House Gaines's most recent work The Tragedy of Brady Sims receives here one of its first critical examinations Clark shows how the themes of Gaines's literary oeuvre produced over the past fifty years dovetail with issues reverberating in twenty first century America race and the criminal justice system black masculinity the environment the enduring impact of slavery black southern women's voices and blacks and whites interpretation of history In addition to textual discussions the book includes an interview Clark conducted with Gaines at the writer's home in New Roads Louisiana in 2014 further illuminating the inner workings and personality of this eminent literary artist

The Blue Period Jesse McCarthy, 2024-04-25 To be a Black writer in the early years of the Cold War was to face a stark predicament On the one hand revolutionary Communism promised egalitarianism and lit the sparks of anticolonial struggle but was hostile to conceptions of personal freedom On the other hand the great force opposing the Soviets at midcentury was itself the very fountainhead of racial prejudice represented in the United States by Jim Crow Jesse McCarthy argues that Black writers of this time were equally alienated from the left and the right and channeled that alienation into remarkable experiments in literary form Embracing racial affect and interiority they forged an aesthetic resistance premised on fierce dissent from both US racial liberalism and Soviet Communism Ranging from the end of World War II to the rise of Black Power in the 1960s from Richard Wright and James Baldwin to Gwendolyn Brooks and Paule Marshall and others Jesse McCarthy shows how Black writers defined a distinctive moment in American literary culture that McCarthy calls the Blue Period

Invisible Ball of Dreams Emily Ruth Rutter, 2018-04-30 Winner of the 2018 John Coates Next Generation Award from the Negro Leagues Research Committee of the Society for American Baseball Research Although many Americans think of Jackie Robinson when considering the story of segregation in baseball a long history of tragedies and triumphs precede Robinson's momentous debut with the Brooklyn Dodgers From the pioneering Cuban Giants 1885 1915 to the Negro Leagues 1920 1960 Black baseball was a long standing staple of African American communities While many of its artifacts and statistics are lost Black baseball figured vibrantly in films novels plays and poems In Invisible Ball of Dreams Literary Representations of Baseball behind the Color Line author Emily Ruth Rutter examines wide ranging representations of this history by William Brashler Jerome Charyn August Wilson Gloria Naylor Harmony Holiday Kevin King Kadir Nelson and Denzel Washington among others Reading representations across the literary color line Rutter opens a propitious space for exploring Black cultural pride and residual frustrations with racial hypocrisies on the one hand and the benefits and limitations of white empathy on the other Exploring these topics is necessary to the project of enriching the archives of segregated baseball in particular and African American cultural history more generally
