

Rain

Rain, midnight rain, nothing but the wild rain
On this bleak hut, and solitude, and me
Remembering again that I shall die
And neither hear the rain nor give it thanks
For washing me cleaner than I have been Since I was born into this solitude.
Blessed are the dead that the rain rains upon:
But here I pray that none whom once I loved
Is dying to-night or lying still awake

Solitary, listening to the rain,
Either in pain or thus in sympathy
Helpless among the living and the dead,
Like a cold water among broken reeds,
Myriads of broken reeds all still and stiff,
Like me who have no love which this wild rain
Has not dissolved except the love of death,
If love it be towards what is perfect and Cannot, the tempest tells me, disappoint.

The Chinese Pleasure Book Michael Nylan, 2021-09-14 This book takes up one of the most important themes in Chinese thought the relation of pleasurable activities to bodily health and to the health of the body politic Unlike Western theories of pleasure early Chinese writings contrast pleasure not with pain but with insecurity assuming that it is right and proper to seek and take pleasure as well as experience short term delight Equally important is the belief that certain long term relational pleasures are more easily sustained as well as potentially more satisfying and less damaging The pleasures that become deeper and more ingrained as the person invests time and effort to their cultivation include friendship and music sharing with others developing integrity and greater clarity reading and classical learning and going home Each of these activities is explored through the early sources mainly fourth century BC to the eleventh century AD with new translations of both well known and seldom cited texts

Blowing Clover, Falling Rain
W. Travis Helms, 2020-11-06 The field of theopoetics explores the ways in which we make God present particularly through language This book explores questions of theopoetics as they relate to the central poetry of the American Sublime It offers a fresh theological engagement with what literary critic Harold Bloom terms the American religion transcendentalism Emerson s homespun mysticism Specifically it seeks to rehabilitate Emerson s concept of self reliance from the charge of gross egoism

by situating it in the context of normative mysticisms Eastern and Western It undertakes a more poetic approach to reading theologically inflected poetry by exegeting four poets collectively constituting Bloom's American religious canon Ralph Waldo Emerson Walt Whitman Wallace Stevens and Hart Crane It utilizes a modified version of the ancient fourfold allegorical mode of reading Scripture to draw out theological dimensions of four quintessential texts Nature Song of Myself Sunday Morning Lachrymae Christi in order to offer a more imaginative way of reading imaginative writing Building on Emerson's contention just as there is creative writing there is creative reading and Bloom's claim a theory of poetry must be poetry before it can be of any use in interpreting poems it demonstrates the unique viable ways in which poems are able to do theology and perform or embody theopoetic truths
