Dynamic Data-Driven Environmental Systems Science Sai Ravela, Adrian Sandu, 2015-11-26 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the First International Conference on Dynamic Data Driven Environmental Systems Science DyDESS 2014 held in Cambridge MA USA in November 2014 The 24 revised full papers and 7 short papers were carefully reviewed and selected from 62 submissions and cover topics on sensing imaging and retrieval for the oceans atmosphere space land earth and planets that is informed by the environmental context algorithms for modeling and simulation downscaling model reduction data assimilation uncertainty quantification and statistical learning methodologies for planning and control sampling and adaptive observation and efficient coupling of these algorithms into information gathering and observing system designs and applications of methodology to environmental estimation analysis and prediction including climate natural hazards oceans cryosphere atmosphere land space earth and planets The War Report Annysa Bellal, 2015-12-10 This War Report provides detailed information on every armed conflict which took place during 2014 offering an unprecedented overview of the nature range and impact of these conflicts and the legal issues they created In Part I the Report describes its criteria for the identification and classification of armed conflicts under international law and the legal consequences that flow from this classification It sets out a list of armed conflicts in 2014 categorising each as international non international or a military occupation with estimates of civilian and military casualties In Part II each of these conflicts are examined in more detail with an overview of the belligerents means and methods of warfare the applicable treaties and rules and any prosecutions for investigations into or robust allegations of war crimes Part III of the Report provides detailed thematic analysis of key legal developments which arose in the context of these conflicts allowing for a more in depth reflection on cross cutting questions and controversies The Report gives a full and accessible overview of armed conflicts in 2014 It should be the first port of call for everyone working in the field Road Vehicle Automation 4 Gereon Meyer, Sven Beiker, 2017-06-28 This book is the fourth volume of the sub series of the Lecture Notes in Mobility dedicated to Road Vehicle Automation Its chapters have been written by researchers engineers and analysts from all around the globe Topics covered include public sector activities human factors and challenges ethical legal energy and technology perspectives vehicle systems development as well as transportation infrastructure and planning The book is based on the Automated Vehicles Symposium which took place in San Francisco California USA in July 2016 One Nation Under Gold James Ledbetter, 2017-06-13 One Nation Under Gold examines the countervailing forces that have long since divided America whether gold should be a repository of hope or a damaging delusion that has long since derailed the rational investor Worshipped by Tea Party politicians but loathed by sane economists gold has historically influenced American monetary policy and has exerted an often outsized influence on the national psyche for centuries Now acclaimed business writer James Ledbetter explores the tumultuous history and larger than life personalities from George Washington to Richard Nixon

behind America's volatile relationship to this hallowed metal and investigates what this enduring obsession reveals about the American identity Exhaustively researched and expertly woven One Nation Under Gold begins with the nation's founding in the 1770s when the new republic erupted with bitter debates over the implementation of paper currency in lieu of metal coins Concerned that the colonies' thirteen separate currencies would only lead to confusion and chaos some Founding Fathers believed that a national currency would not only unify the fledgling nation but provide a perfect solution for a country that was believed to be lacking in natural silver and gold resources Animating the Wild West economy of the nineteenth century with searing insights Ledbetter brings to vivid life the actions of Whig president Andrew Jackson one of gold's most passionate advocates whose vehement protest against a standardized national currency would precipitate the nation's first feverish gold rush Even after the establishment of a national paper currency the virulent political divisions continued reaching unprecedented heights at the Democratic National Convention in 1896 when presidential aspirant William Jennings Bryan delivered the legendary Cross of Gold speech that electrified an entire convention floor stoking the fears of his agrarian supporters While Bryan never amassed a wide enough constituency to propel his cause into the White House America's stubborn attachment to gold persisted wreaking so much havoc that FDR in order to help rescue the moribund Depression economy ordered a ban on private ownership of gold in 1933 In fact so entrenched was the belief that gold should uphold the almighty dollar it was not until 1973 that Richard Nixon ordered that the dollar be delinked from any relation to gold completely overhauling international economic policy and cementing the dollar's global significance More intriguing is the fact that America's exuberant fascination with gold has continued long after Nixon's historic decree as in the profusion of late night television ads that appeal to goldbug speculators that proliferate even into the present One Nation Under Gold reveals as much about American economic history as it does about the sectional divisions that continue to cleave our nation ultimately becoming a unique history about economic irrationality and its influence on the American psyche

How Data Happened Chris Wiggins, Matthew L. Jones, 2023-03-21 Fascinating Jill Lepore The New Yorker A sweeping history of data and its technical political and ethical impact on our world From facial recognition capable of checking people into flights or identifying undocumented residents to automated decision systems that inform who gets loans and who receives bail each of us moves through a world determined by data empowered algorithms But these technologies didn't just appear they are part of a history that goes back centuries from the census enshrined in the US Constitution to the birth of eugenics in Victorian Britain to the development of Google search Expanding on the popular course they created at Columbia University Chris Wiggins and Matthew L. Jones illuminate the ways in which data has long been used as a tool and a weapon in arguing for what is true as well as a means of rearranging or defending power They explore how data was created and curated as well as how new mathematical and computational techniques developed to contend with that data serve to shape people ideas society military operations and economies Although technology and mathematics are at its heart the story of data ultimately concerns an unstable game among states corporations and people How were new technical and scientific capabilities developed who supported advanced or funded these capabilities or transitions and how did they change who could do what from what and to whom Wiggins and Jones focus on these questions as they trace data's historical arc and look to the future By understanding the trajectory of data where it has been and where it might yet go Wiggins and Jones argue that we can understand how to bend it to ends that we collectively choose with intentionality and purpose

Engineering the Environment David P. D. Munns, 2017-07-19 Promising an end to global hunger and political instability huge climate controlled laboratories known as phytotrons spread around the world to thirty countries after the Second World War The United States built nearly a dozen including the first at Caltech in 1949 Made possible by computers and other novel greenhouse technologies of the early Cold War phytotrons enabled plant scientists to experiment on the environmental causes of growth and development of living organisms Subsequently they turned biologists into technologists who in their pursuit of knowledge about plants also set out to master the machines that controlled their environment Engineering the Environment tells the forgotten story of a research program that revealed the shape of the environment the limits of growth and development and the limits of human control over complex technological systems As support and funding for basic science dwindled in the mid 1960s phytotrons declined and ultimately disappeared until nearly thirty years later the British built the Ecotron to study the impact of climate change on biological communities By revisiting this history of phytotrons David Munns reminds us of the vital role they can play in helping researchers unravel the complexities of natural ecosystems in the Anthropocene
