

Friendship In Of Mice And Men

How does having a companion affect one's life? In terms of having emotional stability, there is one thing in life that is needed, which is friends. Throughout the novel Of Mice and Men, John Steinbeck reveals that "a guy needs somebody." Without friends people suffer with loneliness and solitude, like most men on the ranch. This is why their partnership confuses and surprises many men on the ranch too. After everyone was questioning George and Lennie, George told Slim the truth about their relationship. "We kinda look after each other."(18) Their relationship is not just for the sake of Lennie's survival, but for both their mutual benefits. George has a sharp mind and is able to help shade Lennie from social mishaps and the cruelties of the world, but he is very small and wiry. George tells Lennie to never pick a fight, and as a result, Lennie is hesitant to defend himself or use his strength as a threat to

Rowan, 1984-06-30 Too much emotion and insufficient fact This paradox has long characterized the controversy surrounding animal research Of Mice Models and Men is the first exhaustive treatment of all areas empirical and conceptual relevant to the use of animals in research It is also the first study to combine regard for the welfare of laboratory animals with a knowledgeable acceptance of the continuing need for research involving animals The book has another rare quality It is virtually devoid of any of the emotional and exaggerated attacks that have characterized many of the other publications in this area Instead it presents in a manner accessible to both sides all the relevant historical social and scientific information required to form an opinion on the subject The book thus achieves a most difficult goal that of bridging the gap between researchers using animals and animal welfare advocates while pointing out the need for a more active program to promote laboratory animal welfare
