Take Me to a Circus Tent (the Jefferson Airplane Flight Manual) Craig Fenton, 2006-11 Ninety photos starting from 1963 including maybe the rarest one ever 33 interviews 266 questions and answers and a look at 121 live shows and sixty unreleased studio treasures Swallowed by the Sea Graeme Henderson, 2016-10-01 Published in Association with the Western Australian Museum Swallowed by the Sea tells the stories of Australia's greatest and most tragic shipwrecks lost in raging storms on jagged reefs under enemy fire or through human error treachery or incompetence It includes wrecks from all corners of Australia from 1622 to as recently as 2010 from clipper ships to colonial schooners to East Indiamen Read about the oldest known wreck in Australian waters the Tryal driven into a maze of sunken rocks by the inept Captain Brookes and about the loss of emigrant barque Cataraqui which struck a reef off King Island in the middle of a stormy night drowning more than 400 people The violent wrecking of ships is only part of the story Maritime archaeologist Graeme Henderson has personally located and dived many of the shipwrecks in this book Alongside his accounts are colour underwater photographs of the dive sites with specially written recollections by members of the diving crew Sydney's Food Landscapes Joshua Zeunert, Alys Daroy, 2025-06-20 The story of Sydney's metropolitan food landscapes is one of dramatic transformations of First Nations land amidst jostles for power and wealth This book unearths Sydney's lost commercial agriculture since colonisation in 1788 to assess its fragile food futures Richly illustrated 270 images are encapsulated within 110 figures including an array of original metropolitan scale mappings Discussion traverses the city's diverse cultural influences from Indigenous land management to British pastoralism Chinese cultivation of Sydney's backyard vegetable garden and southern European farming spawning billion dollar empires The region has further been shaped by a vast array of cultural and ideological factors and material practices with relevance to planning policy ethics geography heritage art design and technology This book is the first to bring Sydney's disparate post colonial food histories together in one volume to explore the dynamics and tensions between urban growth and food production The relevance of Sydney's food landscapes therefore extends far wider than the city itself with implications for countless regions worldwide in a time of increasing climate and resource precarity Urban Planning Today William S. Saunders, Urban Planning Today reports on projects in Atlanta Boston Chicago New York and Portland bringing perspectives of urban design city planning criticism and law to bear on the mixed bag of results observed in these cities Australia, the Recreational Society David Mosler, 2002-01-30 From its very inception Australia has been a derivative society First as part of the British Empire and then soon after World War II what Mosler considers the American Empire and the new end of century Americanized global culture This has meant that Australia has struggled to attain its own identity Mosler explores that struggle for national independence a struggle that seems to be doomed to failure According to Mosler the reasons for this failure lie in Australia s propensity to remain a recreational culture a culture more attuned to pleasure and dependence than regimented hard work and the concomitant collective pattern of national assertiveness The Australian economy defense arrangements culture and psychology have been dominated by other nations and transnational forces The prospects for the nation in the future appear to be somewhat grim unless this historical pattern of dependence and lack of respect indeed almost contempt for national institutions is reversed A provocative analysis that will be of interest to scholars students researchers and anyone interested in Australian history and contemporary life and culture The Film Weekly ,1961 Decolonising Medieval Fennoscandia Solveig Marie Wang,2023-03-20

The interdisciplinary study investigates the relationship between Norse and Saami peoples in the medieval period and focuses on the multifaceted portrayal of Saami peoples in medieval texts The investigative analysis is anchored in postcolonial methodologies and argues for the inherent need to decolonise the medieval source material as well as recent historiography This is achieved by presenting the historiographic and political background of research into Norse Saami relations before introducing an overview of textual sources discussing Saami peoples from the classical period to the late 1400s an analysis of the textual motifs associated with the Saami in medieval literature their relevance and prevalence geo political affairs trading relations personal relations and Saami presence in the south By using decolonising tools to read Norse Saami relations in medieval texts influenced by archaeological material and postcolonial frameworks the study challenges lingering colonial assumptions about the role of the Saami in Norse society The current research episteme is re adjusted to offer alternative readings of Saami characters and emphasis is put on agency fluidity and the dynamic realities of the Saami medieval pasts Reimagining Christendom Joel D. Anderson,2023-01-03

With its expanding legal system and its burgeoning throngs of lawyers legates and documents the papacy of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries has often been credited with spearheading a governmental revolution that molded the high medieval church into an increasingly disciplined uniform and machine like institution Reimagining Christendom offers a fresh appraisal of these developments from a surprising and distinctive vantage point Tracing the web of textual ties that connected the northern fringes of Europe to the Roman see Joel D Anderson explores the ways in which Norse writers recruited refashioned and repurposed the legal principles and official documents of the Roman church for their own ends Drawing on little known vernacular sagas Reimagining Christendom is populated with tales of married bishops fictitious and forged papal bulls and imagined canon law proceedings These narratives Anderson argues demonstrate how Norse writers adapted and reconfigured the institutional power of the church in order to legitimize some of the thoroughly abnormal practices of their native bishops In the process Icelandic clerics constructed their own visions of ecclesiastical order visions that underscore the thoroughly malleable character of the Roman church s text based government and that articulate diverse ways of belonging to the far flung imagined community of high medieval Christendom The Statesman's Year-Book 1962 S. White Russians, Red Peril Sheila Fitzpatrick,2021-03-30 Over 20 000 ethnic Russians migrated to Australia after World War II yet we know very little about their experiences Some came via China others from refugee camps in Europe Many preferred to keep a low profile in Australia and some attempted to pass as Polish West Ukrainian or Yugoslavian They had good reason to do so to the Soviet Union Australia s resettling of Russians amounted to the theft of its citizens and undercover agents were deployed to persuade them to repatriate Australia regarded the newcomers with wary suspicion even as it sought to build its population by opening its door to more immigrants Making extensive use of newly discovered Russian language archives and drawing on a lifetime s study of Soviet history and politics award winning author Sheila Fitzpatrick examines the early years of a diverse and disunited Russian Australian community and how Australian and Soviet intelligence agencies attempted to track and influence them While anti Communist White Russians dreamed a war of liberation would overthrow the Soviet regime a dissident minority admired its achievements and thought of returning home
