Audio/Visual Rental Policy: PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

- + All Audio/Visual equipment is rented on a first-come, first-served basis.
- + The Center's business hours are: 9am - 5pm, Monday - Friday. If your rental period begins prior to opening or extends past closing you will need to pick up a key to the Audio/Visual storage unit during regular business hours the day prior to your meeting. If the key is not returned immediately after your rental period you will be charged a no-borrowing fee of $50.00.
- + All first-time Lessee's of the Audio/Visual equipment must receive a short equipment use training from a TEC staff person. Training is available during business hours only. It is highly recommended that you test compatibility of your computer and/or MP3 player with our Audio/Visual equipment before your meeting actually occurs, to avoid problems at your event.
- + If additional support from the TEC staff is required, OR if you prefer TEC to set up your equipment for you (available only during above business hours), TEC will assess a set-up and breakdown fee of $25.00 per event.
- + The Lessee takes full responsibility of Audio/Visual equipment rented until the equipment rented is returned to and securely locked in the storage cabinet and the cabinet storage key returned. If any A/V equipment is damaged, broken, or otherwise damaged during the rental period while the storage key is in Lessee's possession, the Lessee agrees to

The Middle Class in Neoliberal China Hai Ren, 2013 Since the late 1970s, China's move towards neoliberalism has made it not only one of the world's fastest growing economies but also one of the most polarised states. This economic, social, and political transformation has led to the emergence of a new Chinese middle class, and understanding the development and the role of this new social group is crucial to understanding contemporary Chinese society. Investigating the new politics of the middle class in China, this book addresses three major questions: First, how does the Chinese state deal with problems of national sovereignty and political representation to create the middle class both as a legitimate category of the people and as an ideal norm of citizenship? Second, how does the recognition of the middle class norm take place in the practice of everyday life? Finally, what kind of risks does the politics of the middle class generate not only for middle class subjects but also for the disenfranchised? In answering these questions, this book examines a set of practices, bodies of knowledge, measures, and institutions that aim to manage, govern, control, and orient the behaviours, gestures, and thoughts of Chinese citizens. This investigation contributes not only to the understanding of the Chinese middle class society but also to the scholarly debate over the relationship between governmental apparatuses, subjectification, and life building. Drawing on ethnographic information, historical archives, and the media, this book will be of great interest to students and scholars working in the fields of Chinese studies, Chinese politics, ethnic studies, and urban studies, as well as those interested in culture, society, class, and welfare.

Construction Productivity in the Multilayer Subcontracting System Low Sui Pheng, Sim Jia Zheng, 2018-08-14 This book focuses on current subcontracting practices in the construction industry and their effects on Singapore's construction productivity. It offers readers a better understanding of how the fragmentation of large and small firms in Singapore impacts construction productivity when operating under the commonly adopted multilayer subcontracting system MLSS which extends globally to the construction industries in other countries that have adopted the MLSS The book also assesses the effectiveness of subcontracting practices in helping local contractors improve their construction productivity and thereby improve the industry s overall productivity In closing it provides recommendations on how the problems associated with the MLSS can best be addressed and how its benefits can be capitalized on through organizational learning Communications Equipment United States.
