Grading Exceptional and Struggling Learners Lee Ann Jung, Thomas R. Guskey, 2011-09-29 A powerful model for helping struggling students succeed How can you ensure that you are grading your exceptional students fairly Teachers receive very little guidance for grading students with disabilities English learners and those receiving services through a response to intervention RTI process This practitioner friendly book provides teachers and administrators with an effective framework for assigning grades that are accurate meaningful and legally defensible The authors easy to follow five step standards based inclusive grading model helps teachers Determine appropriate expectations for each student Understand the differences between accommodations and modifications Grade based on modified expectations Communicate the meaning of grades to students and their families Included are a graphic illustration of the grading model sample report cards and progress reports and vignettes that show how to tailor applications to each subgroup and grade level This invaluable guide takes the mystery out of grading exceptional learners and focuses on what matters most helping all students learn      On Human Potential Sandra I. Kay, 2019-04-16 According to experts in educational measurement current and past performance remains the best single predictor of future performance This book seeks to maximize individual and institutional efforts to support students optimal development specifically their talents The Talent Record introduced a common language cataloging and recording levels of talent achieved thus far on a Talent Profile page Communicating accomplishments in a common language across talent fields unites the ever changing team of individuals associated with a child s development and advances meaningful educational practice      Practical Ideas to Start Up the Year Colleen Politano, Kathleen Gregory, Caren Cameron, Joy Paquin, 2004-01-01 The first book in the Voices of Experience series Grades K 3 is for when you are just getting to know your students The author s best ideas are presented in four activity based sections Relationships how to build successful and respectful relationships Organization how to establish a safe and orderly environment Assessment how to involve students in their own assessment Reliables how to keep your students active and engaged      The Principal Gerald C. Ubben, Larry W. Hughes, 1992 This book provides a bridge from learning the theory of school administration to the practical problem solving in which school principals and other leaders engage This book continues to be based on the research indicating linkages between educational leadership and productive schools especially in terms of outcomes for children It supports the understanding that formal leadership in schools is a complex multi faceted task that requires continual learning and that effective school leaders must be strong educators focused on the central issues of learning teaching and school improvement School leaders must also be moral agents and social advocates for the children and communities they serve while working with community stakeholders to create learning communities that value and care for others as individuals and as members of the educational community For those aspiring to become principals or hold leadership positions      Guiding Curriculum Development M. Scott Norton, 2016-11-02 Top down mandates concerning the curriculum of the school leave no room for program creativity and program commitment Yet principals and teachers are held accountable for student achievement results Constitutionally powers not granted to the United States are reserved to the States or to the people The book s primary purposes center on the need for placing the responsibility for determining student curriculum and academic achievement the local school level whereby school personnel determine the individual student s personal interests and needs and design a curricular program for each student that fosters personnel success The creative abilities of teachers are inhibited in attempts to implement top down mandates that set forth academic content and instructional methods set forth by federal and state agencies If learning programs and instructional methods are to be designed to meet the individual interests and needs of the learner who is in the best position to determine such needs We believe that the social mental and physical needs of children and youth are determined best by local educational professionals This book sets forth the foundations of practice that will serve these purposes
