Today is a turning point in each of our lives. We have spent the past years wandering the halls of this great school and now we are ready to go on.

We have learned, laughed, loved, gotten into trouble, and most of all matured together. But today doesn't just concern reminiscing about the past; it's also about looking forward into our future.

Life is a series of passageways, and we are leaving one and moving on to the next. When we reach that daunting place next year that has been our destination for three years now, we will start over.

We will meet new people, make new friends, and learn new things. We will grow older, more responsible, and independent. Then, the cycle begins again in college, and after that, we are left to traverse the unmapped expanse that is our future.

Hereafter our lives will hold many surprises for us, but I'm sure that we will approach challenges with the same boldness and equanimity with which we tackle problems currently. The unknown of our future may seem frightening now, looming over us like a dark thundercloud, but we might find that it is just a light, spring rain that brings the tidings of a rainbow.

As I look over the many faces I behold today, perceptions of individuals are washed away. I no longer see people as they were; I see them as they will be. So, rather than a young boy, failing all his classes, I see the next Einstein, making revolutionary discoveries. I know that this amphitheatre holds the next decade's great business leaders, doctors, politicians, scientists, and stars, and that all of these graduates will contribute to the fabric of the future in some way.

So when looking at the bright horizon that is my future, I am happy. For although my life will contain sadness and heartbreak, it will also hold joy, love, and success. And I know my classmates' will too. So don't look back, and regret, my friends, look forward, and smile.

Bird Uncaged Marlon Peterson,2021-04-13 From a leading prison abolitionist a moving memoir about coming of age in Brooklyn and surviving incarceration and a call to break free from all the cages that confine us Marlon Peterson grew up in 1980s Crown Heights raised by Trinidadian immigrants Amid the routine violence that shaped his neighborhood Marlon became a high achieving and devout child the specter of the American dream opening up before him But in the aftermath of immense trauma he participated in a robbery that resulted in two murders At nineteen Peterson was charged and later convicted He served ten long years in prison While incarcerated Peterson immersed himself in anti violence activism education and prison abolition work In Bird Uncaged Peterson challenges the typical redemption narrative and our assumptions about justice With vulnerability and insight he uncovers the many cages from the daily violence and trauma of poverty to policing to enforced masculinity and the brutality of incarceration created and maintained by American society Bird Uncaged is a twenty first century abolitionist memoir and a powerful debut that demands a shift from punishment to healing an end to prisons and a new vision of justice

Listen: How Child and Student Voice Can Change the World Siobhán Keenan Fitzgerald,2024-08-01 Article 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child UNCRC 1989 articulates every child s right to have their voice heard in matters that affect them Yet acceptance of this right is sometimes slow and there are barriers to effective implementation This vitally important book aims to accelerate acceptance of this right by bridging the gap between theory and practice empowering adults to act as advocates and facilitators of children using their voices within our homes schools and wider communities Divided into thirteen chapters Listen invites readers to connect the concept of child and student voice meaningfully with the development of all children's physical voices and modes of communication. Topics explored include but are not limited to Current research on student voice including an examination of public speaking within primary schools Advocating for a school wide focus on supporting student voice Best practice and pedagogical approaches to facilitating public speaking in the classroom The benefits and drawbacks of debate including how to use it appropriately and assessing when to employ other techniques Creating a supportive learning environment where students may overcome their anxieties about public speaking An essential read for parents teachers teaching assistants and senior leaders Listen proposes a pedagogical approach to supporting student voice that is backed by current research yet firmly rooted in practical application

God, Schools, and Government Funding Laurence H. Winer, Nina J. Crimm, 2016-04-15

In recent years a conservative majority of the U S Supreme Court over vigorous dissents has developed circumventions to the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment that allow state legislatures unabashedly to use public tax dollars increasingly to aid private elementary and secondary education This expansive and innovative legislation provides considerable governmental funds to support parochial schools and other religiously affiliated education providers That political response to the perceived declining quality of traditional public schools and the vigorous school choice movement for alternative educational opportunities provokes passionate constitutional controversy Yet the Court's recent decision in Arizona Christian School Tuition Organization v Winn inappropriately denies taxpayers recourse to challenge these proliferating tax funding schemes in federal courts Professors Winer and Crimm clearly elucidate the complex and controversial policy legal and constitutional issues involved in using tax expenditures mechanisms such as exclusions deductions and credits that economically function as government subsidies to finance private religious schooling The authors argue that legislatures must take great care in structuring such programs and set forth various proposals to ameliorate the highly troubling dissention and divisiveness generated by state aid for religious education
