Keep The Revolution Going Stefano Campana,Roberto Scopigno,Gabriella Carpentiero,2016-03-31 This volume brings together all the successful peer reviewed papers submitted for the proceedings of the 43rd conference on Computer Applications and Quantitative Methods in Archaeology that took place in Siena Italy from March 31st to April 2nd 2015 Governance As Responsibility Ana Sofia Barros,2019-07-18 Explores criteria determining the international responsibility of member states for failure to protect human rights in international financial institutions Challenging Dominant Views on Student Behaviour at School Anna Sullivan,Bruce Johnson,Bill Lucas,2016-05-20 This is a deliberately provocative book It critiques current student behaviour management practices seeks to explain the flawed assumptions that justify those practices and proposes how things could be better for children in our schools if different practices were adopted It is one of the few books to offer alternative ways of addressing the issues associated with student behaviour at school and exposes the field to serious and sustained critique from both a research perspective and a children s rights ideological stance The authors address the following questions What ideas dominate current thinking on student behaviour at school What are the policy drivers for current practices What is wrong with common behaviour approaches What key ideologies justify these approaches How can we present ethical alternatives to current approaches How can a human rights perspective contribute to the development of alternative approaches In exploring these questions and some ethical alternatives to the status quo the authors suggest practical ways to answer back to calls for more authoritarian responses to student behaviour within our schools In doing so the authors advocate for reforms on behalf of children and in their interests Federal Register ,2013-08 The Politics of Education in Developing Countries Sam Hickey,Naomi Hossain,2019-02-21 Why have many developing countries that have succeeded in expanding access to education made such limited progress on improving learning outcomes There is a growing recognition that the learning crisis constitutes a significant dimension of global inequality and also that educational outcomes in developing countries are shaped by political as well as socio economic and other factors The Politics of Education in Developing Countries focuses on how politics shapes the capacity and commitment of elites to tackle the learning crisis in six developing countries Bangladesh Cambodia Ghana Rwanda South Africa and Uganda The problem of education quality is serious across the Global South The Politics of Education in Developing Countries From Schooling to Learning deploys a new conceptual framework the domains of power approach to show how the type of political settlement shapes the level of elite commitment and state capacity to improving learning outcomes The domain of education is prone to being highly politicized as it offers an important source of both rents and legitimacy to political elites and can be central to paradigmatic elite ideas around nation building and modernity Of particular importance is the relative strength of coalitions pushing for access as against those focused on issues of higher quality education This book concludes with a discussion of entry points and strategies for thinking and working politically in relation to education quality reforms and critical commentaries
