

Reflective Essay on Observation Theme

My dual goals for this assignment were to adhere to the forms and process given but also to adapt them if possible to the needs of an online school with a geographically dispersed faculty. When selecting a teacher to approach about working with me on this exercise, I chose social studies teacher Ana M.—because she has good professional boundaries, is committed to improving her practice, and is a member of the MNOHS Professional Development Committee. I explained to her that this was only an exercise, not in any way connected to the performance evaluation system that MNOHS currently has in place—but also that whatever we learned from the exercise might eventually inform a redesign of the current system.

The instructional model at MNOHS is mainly asynchronous. Teachers are required to hold synchronous office hours in Elluminate (the school webinar) three hours per week spread across two or more non-sequential days, and to arrange special meetings if students have scheduling conflicts and can't make the posted hours. Some teachers, including Ana, also hold instructional meetings in Elluminate but this is left up to their discretion. Ana holds a weekly one-hour meeting for each of her classes. Students must attend a minimum of two per quarter; they can also meet this requirement asynchronously by watching two recorded meetings and answering questions about them. Ana and I agreed, based on my scheduling needs, that I would attend her U.S. History meeting in Week 10.

My first departure from the given process was to conduct all the pre-observation (planning) steps via email, which is my normal daily mode of communication with MNOHS faculty. Given that nothing very controversial is expected to happen in this part of the process, I would probably repeat this choice even under non-simulated conditions. In other words, unless they wanted it, I wouldn't ask faculty to meet with me synchronously before an observation, only after.

The Observing Self (Routledge Revivals) Graham Good, 2014-08-01 First published in 1988 this title is a study of the essay as a literary genre not just in terms of its general intellectual and literary history but as an exploration of the creative possibilities of the form The rise of the essay is discussed in relation to the rise of the novel and the emergence of empiricism in science but the main focus of Graham Good's study is on the inner workings of the essay itself Drawing on criticism by Adorno and Lukacs Graham Good presents the genre as an expression of individualism freed from tradition and authority in which the self constructs itself and its object through independent observation Through analysis of the work of such essayists as Montaigne Bacon Virginia Woolf T S Eliot and George Orwell the potential of the genre for independence and individualism is illustrated and the essay is resituated as an intellectually challenging form of creative and critical writing A Guide to Writing Sociology Papers Roseann Giarrusso, University of California, Los Angeles. Payne, 2009-05-05 At the time of his death in 1921 John Burroughs 1837-1921 was America's most beloved nature writer a best selling author whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs was second only to Emerson in fostering the nature study movement of the nineteenth century and the popularity of his work inspired Houghton Mifflin to publish or reissue the work of numerous other nature writers including that of Thoreau and Muir His first collection of essays Wake Robin was published in 1871 and over the next fifty years Burroughs wrote almost two dozen books and hundreds of essays not only on nature but on literature travel philosophy religion and science By the turn of the century Burroughs was America's most beloved nature writer whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs died in 1921 while on a train ride back to his New York from California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs's emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J. Rinehan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural Practical guide to English composition and essay writing. revised William Stewart Thomson, 1901 Secondary Testing Strategies Three New Edition Amin Abu-Ayyash, Juhaina Yakzan, Amal Najjar, These are test taking activity books intended to prepare students for official exams Writing Essays in English Language and Linguistics Neil Murray, 2012-03-01 English language and linguistics shares many of its writing conventions with those of other disciplines but there are certain features and expectations that distinguish it as a subject This book is written specifically to help undergraduate students of English language and linguistics develop the art of writing essays projects and reports Written by an author with over 30 years experience of lecturing in the subject it is a comprehensive and very readable resource and contains numerous discipline related examples practice exercises and an answer key It includes chapters on referencing including plagiarism paraphrase and guidance on referencing styles stylistic issues that often get overlooked and writing a dissertation The book offers practical guidance and a layout that guides students as they work through their project It will be an invaluable reference tool that students can read cover to cover or dip into as and when required Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This
