Standard: Spring weights are measured in the vertical direction, at a distance of about 1.5 in. from the center of rotation. Since there is a large spring to give the effect of spring force, an 8 lb. standard spring and a spring that is 1.5 in. from the center of rotation are used.

- Abstract—This paper presents a new approach to the problem of detecting and localizing faults in a system. The approach is based on the use of a fault detection and isolation (FDI) algorithm which is able to detect and isolate faults in a system. The FDI algorithm is based on the use of a set of residual signals which are generated by a set of observers. The observers are designed such that they are sensitive to faults in the system. The FDI algorithm is able to detect and isolate faults in a system. The approach is applied to the detection and localization of faults in a system.
