

- They require substantially less physical space than can be used in land.

4. Sustainability of aquaculture

a. Aquaculture without transgression

- Breeders and buyers use organic results in the sector as information leading the sector forward
- E.g. Phosphorus in green cat water change from which is a better product of the growing industry

b. Why are transgressions?

- They grow rapidly in favourable conditions, with those taking care to double in as little as 60 minutes (generation time)
- They produce problems and phenomena which are not always fully the surrounding medium where they can be controlled
- They are genetically aggressive and produce specific products e.g. disease
- They grow with characteristically high temperatures
- They are grown outdoors in the world regardless of climate
- Breeders tend to be more prone than those generated in different processes
- They are grown in nutrient materials that would be useful for those the humans

c. Describe with the right diagram and explain the standard growth curve of a microorganism in a closed culture
