One very evident difference in the themes of the two periods is the greater sense of community during the Anglo-Saxon period. People then were involved in various battles and conquests and they fought as a team. In contemporary times, although it is a response to the two world wars, people cope with pain and suffering individually.

After the world went through Modernists like Freud and Woolf, it is hard not to think about individual motives and stream of consciousness or how a particular incident in one's life affects the overall growth of a person. We find that at a time of great turmoil and uncertainty, Anglo-Saxons turn to their community for support while people of the present become cynics, pessimists, disillusioned and frustrated. This is very much reflected in their
