QUESTION

Egor, who had a history of depression and schizophrenia, and his wife Irina were eating in a restaurant. Egor was taking medication for his condition and was therefore not drinking alcohol. He was trying to reassure Irina who had received threatening letters from her ex-husband Alexey. All of a sudden, Alexey, who was very drunk, burst into the restaurant and stormed over to Egor and Irina's table shouting: 'You stole my wife! You must die!' Egor was alarmed. He picked up the heavy water jug from the table and threw it at Alexey. It hit Alexey on the head and he fell to the floor, unconscious. The sight of Alexey lying on the floor enraged Egor as he remembered the letters Alexey had sent to Irina. He was also worried that Alexey might wake up and kill him. He repeatedly kicked Alexey who died of a fractured skull before an ambulance could be called.

The Concept of Race in International Criminal Law Carola Lingaas, 2019-09-19 Members of racial groups are protected under international law against genocide persecution and apartheid But what is race and why was this contentious term not discussed when drafting the Statute of the International Criminal Court Although the law uses this term is it legitimate to talk about race today let alone convict anyone for committing a crime against a racial group This book is the first comprehensive study of the concept of race in international criminal law It explores the theoretical underpinnings for the crimes of genocide apartheid and persecution and analyses all the relevant legal instruments case law and scholarship It exposes how the international criminal tribunals have largely circumvented the topic of race and how incoherent jurisprudence has resulted in inconsistent protection The book provides important new interpretations of a problematic concept by subjecting it to a multifaceted and interdisciplinary analysis The study argues that race in international criminal law should be constructed according to the perpetrator s perception of the victims ostensible racial otherness The perpetrator s imagination as manifested through his behaviour defines the victims racial group membership It will be of interest to students and practitioners of international criminal law as well as those studying genocide apartheid and race in domestic and international law
