

Teaching is part of a life-long learning process. For effective teaching, teachers must be good learners. This certificate program in college teaching provided me with many opportunities to think about my teaching career. In this section of my teaching ePortfolio, I will answer several questions regarding teaching, ePortfolio, and the certificate program.

What was the most striking or surprising thing you learned about yourself and about teaching as you developed your ePortfolio?

Through the ePortfolio development process, I realized that teaching is one of the most difficult activities I will perform in my life. Knowing or understanding subjects does not necessarily mean I will be able to teach the subjects well. To enhance students' learning, I must create an appropriate learning environment through various teaching strategies and presentation methods. There is no single best solution; I should continuously try new things and improve my teaching skills.

Based on the materials you wrote, what will be your greatest strength as a teacher?

As I discussed in my teaching philosophy statement, I believe in the importance of repeated exposure to a subject. For "repeated exposure," I should prepare well-organized class materials so students can recall previously taught materials easily. My greatest strength as a teacher is my organization skill. I will prepare very organized lesson plans and slides for my classes.

In addition, I always like to explore new subjects – I am very flexible and will change my lesson plans if needed. I will continuously revise my teaching materials. This way, I can provide the most recent, updated information to students.

What will be your greatest challenge as a teacher?

Increasing students' engagement is the greatest challenge as a teacher, especially in the basic lower-level courses. Many students may take such basic introductory courses without strong motivation. As a student, grades are important, of course; however, I want to teach students that applying (or at least recalling) what they learned in their classes, even after college, is much more important than just focusing on class grades.

In addition, balancing between "be strict" and "be flexible" is also a great challenge for me. I want students to follow my policy, such as late work policy. However, I want to be flexible to meet students' needs and interests. Being too strict may damage students' interest and participation in the class, but being too flexible can also hurt students' engagement in the class. I should improve my teaching method to create a good teaching and learning environment.

How did the combination of workshops, experimental learning, assignment development, syllabi construction, and lesson plan creation lead to new understanding about teaching?

The combination of teaching workshops, teaching classes, class material development, and actual teaching provided a great opportunity to enhance my teaching skills. I was able to learn basic teaching principles from teaching classes, apply teaching principles in class material development and actual teaching, and learn new teaching methods and issues from teaching

Curriculum Development for Medical Education Patricia A. Thomas,David E. Kern,Mark

T. Hughes, Sean A. Tackett, Belinda Y. Chen, 2022-08-30 A thoroughly revised and updated fourth edition of a text that has become an international standard for curriculum development in health professional education. Intended for faculty and other content experts who have an interest or responsibility as educators in their discipline, Curriculum Development for Medical Education has extended its vision to better serve a diverse professional and international audience. Building on the time honored practical and user friendly approach of the six step model of curriculum development, this edition is richly detailed with numerous examples of innovations that challenge traditional teaching models. In addition, the fourth edition presents updates in our understanding of how humans learn, a new chapter on curricula that address community needs and health equity, and an increased emphasis throughout on health systems science, population health, equity, educational technology in health professions education, and interprofessional education. This new edition remains a cutting edge tool and practical guidebook for faculty members and administrators responsible for the educational experiences of health professional students, residents, fellows, and practitioners. It includes chapters on each of the steps of curriculum development with updated examples and questions to guide the application of the timeless principles. Subsequent chapters cover curriculum maintenance and enhancement, dissemination, and curriculum development for larger programs. Appendixes present examples of full curricula designed using the six step approach, which is widely recognized as the current standard for publication and dissemination of new curricula, and provides a basis for meaningful educational interventions, scholarship, and career advancement for the health professional educator. The book also provides curricular faculty development and funding resources. Contributors: Chadia N. Abrams, Belinda Y. Chen, Heidi L. Gullett, Mark T. Hughes, David E. Kern, Brenessa M. Lindeman, Pamela A. Lipsett, Mary L. O'Connor, Connor Leppert, Amit K. Pahwa, Deanna Saylor, Mamta K. Singh, Sean A. Tackett, Patricia A. Thomas.

Using Writing as a Therapy for Eating Disorders June Alexander, 2016-07-01 Using Writing as a Therapy for Eating Disorders. The diary healer uses a unique combination of evidence based research and raw diary excerpts to explain the pitfalls and benefits of diary writing during recovery from an eating disorder. In a time when diary writing remains a largely untapped resource in the health care professions, June Alexander sets out to correct this imbalance, explaining how the diary can inspire, heal, and liberate, provide a learning tool for others, and help us to understand and cope with life challenges. The book focuses on the power of diary writing, which may serve as a survival tool but become an unintended foe. With guidance, patients who struggle with face to face therapy are able to reveal their thoughts through writing and construct a strong sense of self. The effects of family background and the environment are explored, and the therapeutic value of sharing diaries to better understand illness symptoms and behaviours is discussed. Using Writing as a Therapy for Eating Disorders will be of interest to those who have recovered or are recovering from eating disorders or any mental illness, as well as therapists, clinicians, and others working in the medical and healthcare professions.

Research on Writing Approaches in Mental Health Luciano L'Abate, Laura G. Sweeney, 2011 Brings together research on different types of writing and distance writing

Narrative Medicine in Hospice Care Tara Flanagan, 2019-12-13 Narrative medicine an interdisciplinary field that brings together the studies of literature and medicine offers both a way of understanding patient identity and a method for developing a clinician's responsiveness to patients While recognizing the value of narrative medicine in clinical encounters including the ethical aspects of patient discourse Tara Flanagan examines the limits of narrative practices for patients with cognitive and verbal deficits In Narrative Medicine in Hospice Care Identity Practice and Ethics through the Lens of Paul Ricoeur Flanagan contends that the models of selfhood and care found in the work of Ricoeur can offer a framework for clinicians and caregivers regardless of the verbal and cognitive capabilities of a patient at the end of life In particular Ricoeur's concept of patient identity connects with the narrative method of life review in hospice and offers an opportunity to address the religious and spiritual dimensions of the patient experience

The Oxford Handbook of Qualitative Research Patricia Leavy, 2020 The Oxford Handbook of Qualitative Research Second Edition presents a comprehensive interdisciplinary overview of the field of qualitative research Divided into eight parts the forty chapters address key topics in the field such as approaches to qualitative research philosophical perspectives narrative inquiry field research and interview methods text arts based and internet methods analysis and interpretation of findings and representation and evaluation The handbook is intended for students of all levels faculty and researchers across the disciplines and the contributors represent some of the most influential and innovative researchers as well as emerging scholars This handbook provides a broad introduction to the field of qualitative research to those with little to no background in the subject while providing substantive contributions to the field that will be of interest to even the most experienced researchers It serves as a user friendly teaching tool suitable for a range of undergraduate or graduate courses as well as individuals working on their thesis or other research projects With a focus on methodological instruction the incorporation of real world examples and practical applications and ample coverage of writing and representation this volume offers everything readers need to undertake their own qualitative studies

Literary Studies and Human Flourishing James F. English, Heather Love, 2023 The Humanities and Human Flourishing series publishes edited volumes that explore the role of human flourishing in the central disciplines of the humanities and whether and how the humanities can increase human happiness The contributors to this volume of essays investigate the question what do literary scholars contribute to social scientific research on human happiness and flourishing Of all humanities disciplines none is more resistant to the program of positive psychology or the prevailing discourse of human flourishing than literary studies The approach taken in this volume of essays is neither to gloss over that antagonism nor to launch a series of blasts against positive psychology and the happiness industry Rather the contributors reflect on how their literary research work to which they are personally committed might become part of an interdisciplinary conversation about human flourishing The contributors areas of research are wide ranging covering literary aesthetics book history digital humanities and reader reception as well as the important inter disciplines of gender and sexuality studies disability studies and black studies fields in which issues of stigma and exclusion are paramount and which have critiqued the discourse of human flourishing for its failure to grapple with structural inequality and human difference Literary scholars are drawn more readily to the problematic than to the decidable but by dwelling on the trouble spots in a field of inquiry still largely confined to the sciences Literary Studies and Human Flourishing provides the groundwork for new and more productive forms of interdisciplinary collaboration and exchange
