regions namely the People's Republic of China, Republic of Korea, Republic of China Hong Kong SAR, Japan and Singapore. While news of educational policies, classroom teaching, assessment and other educational innovations here often surface in the international media, this book brings together for the first time relevant information regarding educational systems and strategies in primary science in East Asia. Above all, it is a readable yet comprehensive survey readers would have an accurate sense of what has been accomplished, what has not worked so well, and what remains to be done. Invited experts in comparative education research and/or science education also provide commentary by discussing common themes across the six regions. These types of critical synoptic reviews add much value by enabling readers to understand broad commonalities and help synthesize what must surely be a bewildering amount of very interesting, albeit confusing, body of facts, issues, and policies. Education in East Asia holds many lessons, both positive and negative, to offer to the rest of the world to which this volume is a timely contribution to the literature.

Graphical Analysis of Covering and Paired Domination in the Environment of Neutrosophic Information Sami Ullah Khan, Abdul Nasir, Naeem Jan, Zhen-Hua Ma, Neutrosophic graph NG is a powerful tool in graph theory which is capable of modeling many real-life problems with uncertainty due to unclear varying and indeterminate information. Meanwhile, the fuzzy graphs FGs and intuitionistic fuzzy graphs IFGs may not handle these problems as efficiently as NGs. It is difficult to model uncertainty due to imprecise information and vagueness in real-world scenarios. Many real-life optimization problems are modeled and solved using the well-known fuzzy graph theory.

Rural Transitions to Higher Education in South Africa Sue Timmis, Thea de Wet, Kibashini Naidoo, Sheila Trahar, Lisa Lucas, Emmanuel Mfanafuthi Mqgwashu, Patricia Muhuro, Gina Wisker, 2021-09-14. This unique and timely book focuses on research conducted into the experiences of students from rural backgrounds in South Africa, foregrounding decolonial perspectives on their negotiation of access and transitions to higher education. This book highlights not only the challenges of coming from a rural background against the historical backdrop of apartheid and ongoing colonialism but also shows the immense assets that students from rural areas bring into higher education. Through detailed narratives created by student co-researchers, the book charts early experiences in rural communities, negotiations of transitions to university, and in many cases to urban life, and students' subsequent journeys through higher education spaces and curricula. The book will be of significant interest and value to those engaged in rurality research across diverse settings, those interested in the South African higher education context, and higher education more widely.
