Agent-Based Modelling in Population Studies André Grow,Jan Van Bavel,2016-08-11 This book examines the use of agent based modelling ABM in population studies from concepts to applications best practices to future developments It features papers written by leading experts in the field that will help readers to better understand the usefulness of ABM for population projections how ABM can be injected with empirical data to achieve a better match between model and reality how geographic information can be fruitfully used in ABM and how ABM results can be reported effectively and correctly Coverage ranges from detailing the relation between ABM and existing paradigms in population studies to infusing agent based models with empirical data The papers show the benefits that ABM offers the field including enhanced theory formation by better linking the micro level with the macro level the ability to represent populations more adequately as complex systems and the possibility to study rare events and the implications of alternative mechanisms in artificial laboratories In addition readers will discover guidelines and best practices with detailed examples of how to apply agent based models in different areas of population research including human mating behaviour migration and socio structural determinants of health behaviours Earlier versions of the papers in this book have been presented at the workshop Recent Developments and Future Directions in Agent Based Modelling in Population Studies which took place at the University of Leuven KU Leuven Belgium in September 2014 The book will contribute to the development of best practices in the field and will provide a solid point of reference for scholars who want to start using agent based modelling in their own research

Studies in Income and Wealth ,1937 Producing Prosperity Randall Holcombe,2013-01-03 The substantial prosperity that characterizes market economies at the beginning of the twenty first century is relatively recent in human history Prior to the Industrial Revolution economic progress was so slow that people would not have been able to recognize it in their lifetimes whereas today economic progress is so much a part of people s lives that they take it for granted In this new volume Randall G Holcombe argues that economic analysis as it developed through the twentieth century relies heavily on concepts of economic equilibrium and is not descriptive of the dynamic real world economy that is characterized by economic progress Even in dynamic settings economic models focus on income growth leaving out the entrepreneurial forces that generate economic progress resulting in the introduction of new goods and services and new production processes Economic analysis focuses on the forces that lead to an economic equilibrium not the forces that produce prosperity This characterization of economic analysis describes a substantial component of economics as it has developed over the past century However there are also economists who have analyzed the factors that lead to an entrepreneurial and innovative economy generating progress rather than equilibrium This volume does not question the value of past research but argues that looking ahead economics should build on its past to focus on factors that create an entrepreneurial and innovative economy that is characterized by progress and prosperity This would make economic analysis more consistent with the remarkable progress and prosperity that characterizes the modern economy This volume lays out a framework for economic analysis that consistently incorporates the real world factors that produce prosperity

Remembering and Forgetting in the Digital Age Florent Thouvenin,Peter Hettich,Herbert Burkert,Urs Gasser,2018-08-24 This book examines the fundamental question of how legislators and other rule makers should handle remembering and forgetting information especially personally identifiable information in the digital age It encompasses such topics as privacy data protection individual and collective memory and the right to be forgotten when considering data storage processing and deletion The authors argue in support of maintaining the new digital default that personally identifiable information should be remembered rather than forgotten The book offers guidelines for legislators as well as private and public organizations on how to make decisions on remembering and forgetting personally identifiable information in the digital age It draws on three main perspectives law based on a comprehensive analysis of Swiss law that serves as an example technology specifically search engines internet archives social media and the mobile internet and an interdisciplinary perspective with contributions from various disciplines such as philosophy anthropology sociology psychology and economics amongst others Thanks to this multifaceted approach readers will benefit from a holistic view of the informational phenomenon of remembering and forgetting This book will appeal to lawyers philosophers sociologists historians economists anthropologists and psychologists among many others Such wide appeal is due to its rich and interdisciplinary approach to the challenges for individuals and society at large with regard to remembering and forgetting in the digital age

Harmonising EU Competition Litigation Maria Bergström, Marios Iacovides, Magnus Strand, 2016-01-14 This volume in the Swedish Studies in European Law series produced by the Swedish Network for European Legal Studies heralds the new harmonised regime of private enforcement of EU competition law In 2013 the Commission issued a Communication and Practical Guide to the quantification of harm in antitrust litigation and a Recommendation on collective redress In 2014 the long awaited Directive on actions for damages for infringements of EU competition law was finally adopted In 2016 the Commission is expected to issue guidelines on the passing on of overcharges This book examines these recent developments and offers the perspectives of judges officials practitioners and academics With a preface by Judge Carl Wetter of the General Court the book explores five different themes In section one the main policy issues and challenges are presented In section two the new regime is placed in the bigger picture of recent EU law developments In section three the nexus between private enforcement and transparency is investigated A comparative perspective is offered in section four by looking into private enforcement in five Member State jurisdictions Finally issues relating to causation harm and indirect purchasers are explored in section five
