investors that are concerned with these issues Routledge Handbook of African Security James J. Hentz, 2013-08-22 This new Handbook examines the issues challenges and debates surrounding the problem of security in Africa Africa is home to most of the world's current conflicts and security is a key issue However African security can only be understood by employing different levels of analysis the individual human security the state national state security and the region regional international security Each of these levels provides analytical tools for understanding what could be called the African security predicament and these debates are animated by the new security issues immigration small arms transfers gangs and domestic crime HIV AIDS transnational crime poverty and environmental degradation African security therefore not only presents concrete challenges for international security but provides a real world context for challenging conventional conceptions of security Drawing together contributions from a wide range of key thinkers in the field the Routledge Handbook of African Security engages with these debates and is organized into four parts Part I The African security predicament in the twenty first century Part II Understanding conflict in Africa Part III Regionalism and Africa Part IV External influences This Handbook will be of great interest to students of African politics human security global security war and conflict studies peacebuilding and IR in general Routledge Handbook of Democratization in Africa Gabrielle Lynch, Peter VonDoepp, 2019-07-02 This volume explores the issues and debates surrounding the ongoing processes of democratization in sub Saharan Africa illuminating the central dynamics characterizing Africa's democratic experiments and considering the connections between democratization and economic social and cultural developments on the continent Reflecting the diverse and rich nature of this field of study the Handbook of Democratization in Africa features more than thirty contributions structured into six thematic sections The politics and paths of regime development Institutional dynamics Political mobilization and voting dynamics The politics of identity Social forces from below The consequences of democracy Chapters offer overviews of the key scholarship on particular topics including central insights from the latest research and provide suggestions for those interested in further inquiry The material includes attention to broad cross continental patterns for example with respect to public opinion political violence or the role of different institutions and actors It also includes rich case material drawing on and highlighting the experiences of a diverse collection of countries Encouraging a comprehensive view of key concerns and enhancing understanding of particular issues the Handbook of Democratization in Africa represents a critical resource for experts and students of African politics democratization and African studies Routledge Handbook of African Political Philosophy Uchenna Okeja, 2023-08-25 The Routledge Handbook of African Political Philosophy showcases and develops the arguments propounded by African philosophers on political problems bringing together experts from around the world to chart current and future research trends Africa's recent history has been shaped by the experiences of colonization anti colonial struggle and postcolonial self rule so it is perhaps not surprising that political questions are also central to African philosophy This exciting new handbook provides insights into the foundations virtues vices controversies and key topics to be found within African political philosophy concluding by considering how it connects with other traditions of political philosophy In doing so this book provides important fresh perspectives that help us to gain a richer understanding of the challenges of coexistence in society and governance not just in Africa but around the world This book will be an important resource for researchers and students across the fields of Political Philosophy Political Science International Relations and African Studies

Decolonizing African Politics Michael Amoah, 2025-06-07 This book serves as a unique contribution to the curriculum decolonizing agenda currently trending in universities It approaches Politics and International Relations from the postcolonial and decolonial perspectives with empirical rebuttals to existing imperial and neocolonial false narratives It examines key concepts and topics which regularly feature when teaching or discussing Africa at universities such as nationhood and nationalisms neo patrimonialism arbitrary borders and tribes fran afrique superpower relations relationships with China South South cooperation and collaborations foreign interventions global justice global governance and reform of the UN Security Council This book explores the etymologies of these concepts or topics and their terminological application to Africa while bringing fresh perspectives to the debate It appeals to scholars and students of African politics and international relations and functions as a graduate and advanced under graduate pedagogical tool

Routledge Handbook of Public Policy in Africa Gedion Onyango, 2021-12-30 This Handbook provides an authoritative and foundational disciplinary overview of African Public Policy and a comprehensive examination of the practicalities of policy analysis policymaking processes implementation and administration in Africa today The book assembles a multidisciplinary team of distinguished and upcoming Africanist scholars practitioners researchers and policy experts working inside and outside Africa to analyse the historical and emerging policy issues in 21st century Africa While mostly attentive to comparative public policy in Africa this book attempts to address some of the following pertinent questions How can public policy be understood and taught in Africa How does policymaking occur in unstable political contexts or in states under pressure Has the democratisation of governing systems improved policy processes in Africa How have recent transformations such as technological proliferation in Africa impacted public policy processes What are the underlying challenges and potential policy paths for Africa going forward The contributions examine an interplay of prevailing institutional political structural challenges and opportunities for policy effectiveness to discern striking commonalities and trajectories across different African states This is a valuable resource for practitioners politicians researchers university students and academics interested in studying and understanding how African countries are governed

History, Politics, Law Annabel Brett, Megan Donaldson, Martti Koskeniemi, 2021-10-07 Juxtaposes standpoints from which disciplines of history political thought and law conceive and generate political order beyond the state

Political Governance and the African Peer Review Mechanism Omololu Fagbadebo, Isioma U. Ile, 2025-04-15 This book presents a comparative analysis of political governance and includes case studies from various African countries It further sheds light on the paradox of poverty despite Africa's plentiful resources and traces its roots in historical legacies of colonialism and leadership failures. The book examines the African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM) initiated by the African Union (AU) in 2003 and explores the APRM's role in promoting sustainable development, political stability and integration. Against this background, the book dissects the four thematic areas of the APRM with a focal point on democratic and political governance, illuminating challenges and proposing solutions. In case studies on selected African countries, contributors present governance structures highlighting the struggle for accountability, representation and public participation. The book highlights alarming indicators of weak governance, including corruption and declining public engagement, and reflects Africa's journey toward effective governance. By doing so, the book scrutinizes African governing systems, responses to crises and offers valuable insights into the continent's quest for progress and transformation. African State Governance A. Carl LeVan, Joseph Olayinka Fashagba, Edward R. McMahon, 2016-02-05

Africa is changing and it is easy to overlook how decentralization, democratization and new forms of illiberalism have transformed federalism, political parties and local politics. Chapters on Kenya, Nigeria, Ethiopia and South Africa help fill an important gap in comparative institutional research about state and local politics in Africa. China and African Parliaments Innocent Batsani-Ncube, 2025-05-12. China and African Parliaments maps the political controversies surrounding the designing, making and utilisation of three parliament buildings in Southern Africa that were financed and constructed by the People's Republic of China. The book is the first to explore and explain the impact of China's expanding influence in African parliaments. The financing of African parliament buildings is a new and tangible phenomenon around which to understand China-Africa relations, the evolution of African parliaments and policy-relevant debates on contemporary representative politics in Africa. Topics all tackled in this book. The book draws on eight months of mixed method fieldwork in Lesotho, Malawi and Zimbabwe. Data was collected through official access to all three buildings, key informant interviews with political and civil society elites and focus group discussions with a cross-section of ordinary citizens who live and work around the buildings. The book makes two distinct contributions to the China-Africa relations and African parliaments literature. The first contribution is to advance a ground-breaking argument that China's method of donating Parliament buildings to African countries indicates that it is targeting the institution as a site of long-term influence. The second contribution is to make a theoretical and comparative case to utilise discussion of the concept of African legislative institutionalisation through and in juxtaposition to these Chinese government-funded parliament buildings. Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines. Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science, political economy and International Relations, such as electoral politics, democratization, decentralization, gender and political representation, the political impact of natural resources, the dynamics and consequences of conflict, comparative political thought and the nature of the continent's engagement with the East and West. Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged as is interdisciplinary research and work that considers ethical issues relating to the study of Africa Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates The focus of the series is on sub Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world are of interest Series Editors Nic Cheeseman University of Birmingham Peace Medie University of Bristol and Ricardo Soares de Oliveira University of Oxford

Routledge Handbook of Conflict Response and Leadership in Africa Alpaslan Özerdem, Sinem Akgül-Açıkmeşe, Ian Liebenberg, 2021-09-14 This handbook explores the challenges and opportunities for leadership and conflict response in the context of Africa at several levels Leadership plays a vital role in affecting conflict response but is frequently only examined at the macro level of state government and international organizations This handbook addresses the need to explore challenges and opportunities for leadership at several levels macro global regional national meso NGOs religious groups academics and micro civil society organizations youth groups women s organizations Analysis from multiple levels provides a broader explanation of conflict dynamics and helps to fit localized conflict transformation approaches into wider national or regional structures The multidisciplinary essays presented in this volume encompass the psychological political and structural dimensions of conflict response and demonstrate how its success is fundamentally linked to the style of effectiveness of leadership among other factors The volume is divided into four thematic sections Part I The theory and dynamics of conflict response and leadership Part II Macro level leadership experiences in conflict response Part III Meso micro level leadership experiences in conflict response Part IV Recommendations for improved leadership in conflict response This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies African politics security studies and international relations in general

Institutions and Democracy in Africa Nic Cheeseman, 2018-02-22 Historically African political institutions such as constitutions legislatures and judiciaries have been seen as weak and vulnerable to manipulation leading some to claim that the continent is institutionless However recent developments including the consolidation of presidential term limits in a number of countries demonstrate that this depiction is no longer tenable By drawing attention to how institutions can shape the practice of politics this book demonstrates that electoral commissions economic regulations and systems of land tenure are vital to our understanding of contemporary Africa A series of cutting edge contributions from leading scholars explain how the rules of the game shape political developments across the continent from Kenya to Nigeria and from Benin to South Africa In chapters that cover bureaucracies constitutions elections political parties the police and more the authors argue that a new research agenda is required if we are to better understand the process of democratisation

The Politics of Housing in (Post-)Colonial Africa Kirsten Rüther, Martina Barker-Ciganikova, Daniela Waldburger, Carl-Philipp Bodenstein, 2020-06-08 Housing matters no matter when or where This volume of collected essays on housing in colonial and postcolonial Africa seeks to elaborate the how and the why Housing is much more than a living everyday practice It unfolds in its disparate dimensions of time space and agency Context dependent it acquires diverse often ambivalent meanings Housing can be a promise an unfulfilled dream a tool of self and class assertion a negotiation process or a means to achieve other ends Our focus lies in analyzing housing in its multifacetedness be it a lens to offer insights into complex processes that shape societies be it a tool of empire to exercise control over private relations of inhabitants or be it a means to create good obedient and productive citizens Contributions to this volume range from the field of history to architecture and urban planning African Studies linguistics and literature The individual case studies home in on specific aspects and dimensions of housing and seek to bring them into dialogue with each other By doing so the volume aims to add to the vibrant academic debate on studying urban practices and their significance for current social change

The Contested Lands of Laikipia Marie Ladekjær Gravesen, 2020-11-16 Pastoralists ranchers of European descent conservationists smallholders and land investors with political influence converge on the Laikipia plateau in Kenya Land is claimed by all the tactics differ Private property rights are presented histories of presence are told charges of immorality are applied fences are electrified and some resort to violence The region marked by enclosures is left as a tense fragmented frontier Marie Gravesen embedded herself in the region prior to a wave of land invasions that swept the plateau leading up to Kenya's 2017 general election Through a rich telling of the history of Laikipia's social political and environmental dynamics she invites a deeper understanding of the pre election violence and general tensions as never done before The manuscript is a revised version of the author's dissertation accepted by the Faculty of Arts and Humanities at the University of Cologne in 2018

Prospects for Regional Integration in Africa Andreas Freytag, Abena D. Oduro, African integration has had a long history dating back to the end of colonization in the 1960s It has generated enormous interest in recent years not least because the continent has recently taken some bold steps to integrate further such as the Tripartite Free Trade Area or the creation of the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA With this book we offer an innovative perspective on African integration By inviting mostly young African scholars from different disciplines in the social sciences and humanities we make African voices audible and start a discussion of the African integration efforts from an African perspective using novel criteria to judge different African integration attempts In addition to the younger generation's representatives we also invited scholars from Europe and Latin America to bring other continents perspectives to the fore

State Politics and Public Policy in Eastern Africa Gedion Onyango, 2023-03-22 This book analyses major themes in twenty first century east African politics Predominantly authored by researchers and academics from the region it examines recent political developments public policy and governance across east and southern African countries The book advocates for a regionally focused comparative approach across Africa arguing that it provides a greater level of analysis than a complete continental study Adopting a multidisciplinary approach it covers numerous topics relating to politics public policy state and nation building in Africa Filling an important void in current literature the book will appeal to academics practitioners politicians and students of politics public policy and governance Chapter 16 and 20 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com

African Climate Futures Carl Death, 2025-06-10 African Climate Futures shows how climate changed futures are imagined in Africa and by Africans and how these future visions shape political debates and struggles in the present. Scientific climate scenarios forecast bleak futures with increased droughts floods lethal heatwaves sea level rises declining crop yields and greater exposure to vector borne diseases. Yet African climate futures could also encompass energy transitions and socio economic revolutions transformed political agency and human subjectivities and radically reparative more than human climate politics. At the heart of the book is an original and interdisciplinary approach. It studies official climate policy strategies and fictional texts side by side as ecopolitical imaginaries that envision low carbon climate changed futures and narrate pathways from here to there. It discusses net zero strategies from Ethiopia The Gambia Nigeria South Africa and Zimbabwe and draws on postcolonial feminist and queer theory arguing that Africanfuturist climate fiction can inspire more radical reparative more than human ecopolitical imaginaries. These stories can help us to understand the debts we all owe imagine what reparations might entail and explore the contours of living convivially alongside more than human others in heterotopian climate changed futures. Stories can help explore how we might feel in climate changed futures and can help us to narrate a path through them. This book uses Africanfuturist climate fiction to inspire new ways of challenging and enriching theoretical debates in global climate change politics including how we understand the places temporalities ecologies and politics of climate futures. If we want to survive to tell new stories in liveable futures then we need to urgently and radically transform carboniferous capitalism.
