Perception Of Light:

The Perception of Light and Colour C. A. Padgham, John E. Saunders, 1975

The Influence of Ocular Light

Perception on Metabolism in Man and in Animal F. Hollwich, 2012-12-06 This book was written to show that light is a primal element of life All life originates and develops under the influence of the light of the sun that super terrestrial natural force Goethe Sunlight influences the vital processes not only of the plant e.g. heliotropism photosynthesis and the animal e.g. color change maturation of the gonads but of man as well. The human organism too reacts heliotropically as the 24 hour rhythm of the sleep-waking cycle demonstrates. Artists have always perceived clearly the intensive stimulatory effect of sunlight on their activity. One is reminded here of Cesare Lombroso who wrote to his daughter that thoughts come in the greatest profusion when my room is flooded with the sun's rays. Richard Wagner exclaimed If only the sun would come out I would have the score finished in no time. Bernard Shaw had a little cottage where he worked that could be turned according to the position of the sun. The composer Humperdinck wrote The sun is indispensable for my work that is why it is important for me to have my study face east or south. As these few examples indicate it is above all those active in the arts who intuitively grasp the positive influence of sunlight on the psycho-physical efficiency of their organism. In an age however when fluorescent lighting turns night into day we are in danger of forgetting that man is a creature of nature as well as of culture.

The Perception of Light and Colour and the Physiology of Vision C. V. Raman, 1960 Looking to Learn Frances Mary D'Andrea, Carol Farrenkopf, 2000 This handbook provides teachers with practical tips and advice on improving literacy skills for students with low vision. The book provides easy-to-understand explanations of vital topics such as interpreting eye reports, performing functional vision assessments, working with low vision service providers and more. The valuable resource section tables, sample reports and sidebars offer essential information on assessing low vision students and helping them use their vision effectively.
