

The background image is a composite of two construction-related scenes. The top half shows a large, multi-story building with many windows, possibly a residential or commercial structure, with a large piece of construction machinery, likely a pile driver or similar, in the foreground. The bottom half shows a construction site with a large tracked vehicle, possibly a crawler crane or a similar heavy-duty machine, and two workers in hard hats and safety vests. The entire image has a warm, orange-toned filter.
