Political Memory and the Aesthetics of Care Mihaela Mihai, 2022-01-11 With this nuanced and interdisciplinary work political theorist Mihaela Mihai tackles several interrelated questions How do societies remember histories of systemic violence Who is excluded from such histories cast of characters And what are the political costs of selective remembering in the present Building on insights from political theory social epistemology and feminist and critical race theory Mihai argues that a double erasure often structures hegemonic narratives of complex violence of widespread heterogeneous complicity and of impure resistances not easily subsumed to exceptionalist heroic models In dialogue with care ethicists and philosophers of art she then suggests that such narrative reductionism can be disrupted aesthetically through practices of mnemonic care that is through the hermeneutical labor that critical artists deliver thematically and formally within communities space of meaning Empirically the book examines both consecrated and marginalized artists who tackled the memory of Vichy France communist Romania and apartheid South Africa Despite their specificities these contexts present us with an opportunity to analyze similar mnemonic dynamics and to recognize the political impact of dissenting artistic production Crossing disciplinary boundaries the book intervenes in debates over collective responsibility historical injustice and the aesthetics of violence within political theory memory studies social epistemology and transitional justice

Memorializing the Past Heidi Grunebaum, 2017-07-28 This work is a meditation on the shaping of time and its impact on living with and understanding atrocity in South Africa in the wake of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC It is an examination of the ways that the institutionalization of memory has managed perceptions of time and transition of events and happenings of sense and emotion of violence and recovery of the past and the new Through this process a public language of memory has been carved into collective modes of meaning It is a language that seems deprived of the hopes dreams and possibilities for the promise of a just and redemptive future it once nurtured Truth commissions are profoundly implicated in the social politics of memorialization Memory as a conceptual historical and experiential discourse about the past relates to the ways in which cruelty is integrated into societal understandings which include cognitive and philosophic frameworks and constructions of social meaning The politics of historical truth of memory and of justice play out in unintended ways There is not only the ongoing struggle for survivors of state terror but also the ways that the everyday shapings of silences the emptiness of reconciliation and the fracturing of hope remain embedded in political life

Uncovering Memory Tanja Sakota, 2023-03-01 My interest in site specific research is not random My mother escaped through the sewers of Breslau Germany in 1945 today known as Wroclaw Poland My father was born in a country that no longer exists Their final destination was Johannesburg South Africa This is where I enter the narrative I was born during apartheid and my interest in memory and identity is a result of my historical and political context Each one of us comes with a history a complex web of DNA and a library of information that shapes who we are and how we view the world How can we use our own complexities not only to engage with one another but to build it for story content As an artistic researcher filmmaker and educator Tanja Sakota has often thought how to bring this subjective experience into pedagogical practice Using paired themes of memory and forgetting segregation and migration perpetrators and victims Sakota travels along a timeline of memory as she takes us on a journey through South Africa Germany Poland and Bosnia Herzegovina Using a camera and short film techniques she hosts several workshops focused on interacting and engaging with remembering through different memory sites The author sits at the core but the book is an interdisciplinary work shaped around films made by different participants using the camera to access and unveil personal interpretations of space and place Questions that underpin the uncovering of memories are How does one use a camera to unmask invisible memories hidden within sites How does one remember events that one hasn't necessarily experienced How does one use film to interrogate the past from the future present As the journey evolves workshop participants and readers alike enter into a conversation around practice based research autoethnography and film Uncovering Memory is not a handbook offering a prescriptive method Instead it is a pedagogical text that offers an interactive approach for students and peers to consider adapt or react to in their own teaching and learning practices The narrative encourages readers to self reflect as they explore their own memory using the camera and short film format as an engaging tool for research and knowledge production
