Saffron Days In La:

The Bodhi Tree Grows in L.A. Bhante Walpola Piyananda, 2008-06-10 Truth is regularly stranger than fiction for the abbot of a Buddhist temple in the far from tranquil inner city of Los Angeles California Whether he is talking a dangerously unbalanced man out of buying a gun confronting a naked woman in his meditation hall or helping gamblers reform Bhante Walpola Piyananda demonstrates that every experience can be an opportunity for learning and appreciating the Buddha's teachings Bhante Piyananda also reflects on social and political issues such as the racial tension in his neighborhood after the Rodney King trial and the destruction of the Bamiyan Buddha statues in Afghanistan Saffron Days in L.A. Bhante Walpola Piyananda, 2001-05-01 In this delightful memoir Bhante Walpola Piyananda a Buddhist monk from Sri Lanka shares his often amusing often poignant experiences of life in America Whether he's reasoning with a group of confrontational punks on Venice Beach bridging the gap between a rebellious teenager and her traditional parents explaining to an errant Buddhist that the concept of non attachment does not justify irresponsibility or dealing with a nude sunbather at a meditation retreat no situation no matter how sticky manages to affect Bhante's unflappable calm or his phenomenal ability to find the right parable for the moment Bhante Walpola Piyananda who is abbot of a Buddhist meditation center in L A has met and counseled a wide range of people the disenfranchised of society couples dealing with relationship issues American Buddhists trying to reconcile their practice with their very Western lifestyles recent immigrants struggling to assimilate but also maintain their traditional values His stories reveal the complicated joyous painful baffling and inspiring aspects of the human condition and the power of true compassion Restoring Hope T. Karpf, T. Ferguson, R. Swift, J. Lazarus, 2008-10-08 This volume is a call to re examine assumptions about what care is and how it be practised Rather than another demand for radical reform it makes the case for thinking clearly and critically It urges people living with HIV to become full partners in designing and implementing their own care and for caregivers to accept them in this role The Dialogue Comes of Age John B. Cobb (Jr), 2010 Increasingly world religious traditions present not just an intellectual or apologetic challenge to Christians but a daily encounter a source of religious practices and even live religious options How are Christians to relate to these traditions and the neighbors and friends who live by them This lively and engaging book is a great resource for faithful wrestling with the new realities Led by theologian John B Cobb Jr and historian Ward M McAfee the Progressive Christians Uniting has distilled the historical and existential import of both Abrahamic and other traditions and stressed the differences among traditions and the richness they can afford Christian self understanding Includes study materials Beyond Tolerance Gustav Niebuhr, 2008-07-31 At a time when religious conflict and violence seem to dominate the media distinguished religion journalist Gustav Niebuhr set off across America to find people who are building not burning the bridges between faiths As he travels across the country from Queens and Baltimore to Louisville and Los Angeles he finds Buddhists Catholics Jews Baptists Muslims and Episcopalians reaching out to one another to find common ground between their faiths This insightful and deeply felt exploration of the nature of community and religion is a tribute to their efforts and a boost of much needed optimism that reminds all Americans of their common goals no matter their faith Heartwood quite wide enough What marvellous doings of fairies ogres or demons can compare with the deeds of Charlemagne and what magic ring could be as potent as his sword But before I proceed further it will be as well to sketch for you in a few lines the portrait of this hero He was eight feet in height according to the measurement of his own feet which historians allege with fervour were of remarkable length His eyes were large and piercing When he was enraged you could almost have fancied they flashed fire His face was broad and ruddy his hair brown and he wore a beard that was innocent of the barber s shears Although he measured eight feet round the middle his figure was wellproportioned He devoured with ease at one repast a quarter of mutton or a goose or a ham or a peacock He was moderate in the matter of wine which he used to take with water His strength was so enormous that it was mere child s play to him to straighten with his naked hands three horse shoes at a time He could lift at arm s length on the palm of his hand a knight in full armour and lie could cleave in twain with one blow of his sword a horseman in panoply of war aye and his horse into the bargain This was mere sport to him and often with a charming complaisance which was peculiarly his own he would take pleasure in thus giving those about him an ocular demonstration of his superhuman strength His anger was as terrible as the thunder for it was as ready to burst forth and to strike He carves out a kingdom with the compassion of a Titus the sound judgment of a Solomon the piety of a Joseph the magnificence of a Sardanapalus and the wisdom of an sop he united two qualities more rare than all these put together when he spoke he meant what he said and when others spoke to him he took time for reflection in order to make sure that he thoroughly understood their meaning The dominion which his father bequeathed him did not suit the largeness of his views so he carved out for himself a kingdom which was more in harmony with his gigantic instincts
