

Introduction

The establishment of a nursing philosophy plays a crucial role in nursing practice and career growth. Even though all nurses study the same principles, theories, and regulations, each person shares specific beliefs and attitudes toward the environment, which provokes the promotion of unique approaches to care and treatment. The author of four nursing meta paradigms, Fawcett, admits that today, the awareness of paradigms contributes to an intellectual recognition of nursing fundamentals and the reduction of burnout (as cited in Deliktas et al., 2019). In addition, such external factors as interactions with patients and colleagues and classroom experience define the skills of nurses. Finally, many nursing theories reflect the way of how care is offered. A personal nursing philosophy is an opportunity to combine theoretical and practical aspects, consider individual interests and beliefs, and understand the uniqueness of nursing practice through the prism of the existing concepts. In this paper, the evaluation of meta paradigms and the theory of human caring by Jean Watson will be developed to prove the importance of holistic care, communication, and research in nursing practice.

Personal Philosophy and Nursing Metaparadigms

To introduce a strong and effective nursing philosophy that corresponds to my personal beliefs and knowledge, I should think about what nursing means to me and how I understand the concepts in nursing meta paradigms. There are four well-known categories, including person, health, environment, and nursing, with specific characteristics and purposes (Branch et al., 2016). The human factor refers to people in a particular society or culture (Deliktas et al., 2019). My nursing philosophy reveals a person as an individual (and a family) who needs care, support, and information to comprehend what happens around. The environment paradigm covers social, economic, and other factors that influence human health (Deliktas et al., 2019). I believe that an understanding of the

Personal Philosophy and Disciplinary Perspective of Nursing Mona Alaanzi, 2016-11-17 Essay aus dem Jahr 2016 im Fachbereich Pflegewissenschaft Pflegemanagement Sprache Deutsch Abstract Gaining more experience and knowledge in philosophy nursing philosophy and the nursing paradigm has helped me to know more about myself as a human being and as a nurse In the process of reading I find it hard to commit to one point of view or one perspective however now I clearly see where I fit My philosophical perspective in general and in nursing specifically are heavily influenced by the empiricism and positivism perspective and ultimately aligns with the totality nursing paradigm From my ontological perspective in general I believe in objectivism that there is a single truth and there is a single reality I believe that we as human beings are always in interaction with the external reality which is the environment I believe that the environment is everything surrounding us and we as human beings interact with and influence the environment and the environment interacts with and influences us in turn In other words if someone follows a certain action he she will be able to predict what the outcomes will be To illustrate if I throw a ball up in the air I expect that it will hit the ground Another example could be if I follow a specific diet and a specific exercise to lose weight then the result will be what I expected which is weight loss unless there are some other contributing factors From my epistemological standpoint I believe that reality can be captured by senses and can be predicted by experience I believe that there is no knowledge without experience To illustrate if someone says an apple is red I can't imagine what the apple looks like if I have never seen a red one before How can one know what something tastes like if they have never tasted it Experience is anything that came across our mind at any certain time in the past I also believe that knowledge can be gained through reasoning According to wisdom in my culture The reason is known the surprise is blown In other words knowledge needs clarifications and explanation so only reasoning can transform sensory data into something meaningful and understandable
