The Cycle Michael M. Kaiser, Brett E. Egan, 2013-09-03 In the third book of his popular trilogy on creating and sustaining arts organizations Michael Kaiser reveals the hidden engine that powers consistent success According to Kaiser successful arts organizations pursue strong programmatic marketing campaigns that compel people to buy tickets enroll in classes and so on in short to participate in the organization s programs Additionally they create exciting activities that draw people to the organization as a whole This institutional marketing creates a sense of enthusiasm that attracts donors board members and volunteers Kaiser calls this group of external supporters the family When this hidden engine is humming staff board and audience members artists and donors feel confidence in the future Resources are reinvested in more and better art which is marketed aggressively as a result the family continues to grow providing even more resources This self reinforcing cycle underlies the activities of all healthy arts organizations and the theory behind it can be used as a diagnostic tool to reveal and remedy the problems of troubled ones This book addresses each element of the cycle in the hope that more arts organizations around the globe from orchestras theaters museums opera companies and classical and modern dance organizations to service organizations and other not for profit cultural institutions will be able to sustain remarkable creativity pay the bills and have fun doing so

Acting on Cultural Policy Jane Woddiss, 2023-01-01 This book investigates the role of arts practitioners in cultural policy making challenging the perception that arts practitioners have little or no involvement in policy and seeking to discover the extent and form of their engagement Examining the subject through a case study of playwriting policy in England since 1945 and paying particular attention to playwrights organisations and their history of self directed activity the book explores practitioners participation in cultural policy making encompassing both invited and uninvited interventions that also weave together policy activity and creative practice It discusses why their involvement matters and argues that arts practitioners and their organisations can be understood as participants in civil society whose policy activity contributes to the maintenance and enlargement of democratic practices and values Watson's Weekly Art Journal ,1879 The Best of the Board Café Jan Masaoka,2009-06-30 A Bestseller
