Featured Skill:analyzing conflict

Other Key Skills: tone, figurative language, character, text evidence

Levels of Meaning/Purpose

In "People Call Me Crazy," two campers become lost in the woods, and one of them must face his deepest fear or risk an unthinkable outcome. On a deeper level, the story illustrates the powerful and life-changing impact that a single experience can have on a person's psyche. The text invites readers to make numerous inferences about characters' motivations and attitudes.

Structure

The story's structure is mainly chronological, includes many descriptive passages, and is told in the past tense. However, it opens and closes with present-tense passages in which the narrator reflects on his own motivation and state of mind.

Language Conventionality and Clarity

The language is conversational and contemporary.

- Vocabulary: The story includes some challenging vocabulary (e.g., exertion, relentlessly, adrenaline).
- Figurative language: The text has some similes and metaphors.

Knowledge Demands

Some familiarity with search-and-rescue operations will be helpful but not necessary to comprehension.

Gary Paulsen Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2018-08-14 McFarland Companions to Young Adult Literature American novelist Gary Paulsen is best known for his young adult fiction including bestsellers Nightjohn Soldier's Heart and Woods Runner. From his trenchant prose in The Rifle and The Foxman to the witty escapades of Harris and Me and Zero to Sixty Paulsen crafts stories with impressive range. The tender scenes in The Quilt and A Christmas Sonata speak to his empathy for children with characters who endure the same hardships that marred his own early life. This literary companion introduces readers to his life and work. A to Z entries explore themes such as alcoholism coming of age slavery survival and war. A glossary defines terms unique to his work. Appendices provide related historical references writing art and research topics. Researching the Military Helena Carreiras, Celso Castro, Sabina Frederic, 2016-03-02 Researching the Military focuses on the experiences of researchers who study the military around the world. It explores the historical social institutional and personal factors that frame research and scrutinize the way knowledge in this area impacts society and policy. More than merely analyzing research experiences yet necessarily including them it is also about the experiences of researchers their position with regard to the object of their studies the institutional context where they work and the way their research impacts the academic and policy making fields in the respective countries. The common theme to the various chapters is reflexivity a conscious effort at addressing the conditions of research and the position of the researcher and the research participants in that interface. By collecting diverse experiences of researchers from across the world this volume aims to enhance reflexivity in the field of military studies and to encourage the exchange of knowledge between the academic field and the military arena. This book will be of much interest to students of military studies research methods sociology social
