Jameson Brewer,Cleveland Hayes,2025-03-10 Food Stories Navigating the Academy with

Cultural Lessons from the Kitchen is the first volume in the series Culinary Canvas A Series on Integrating the Arts and Food into Higher Education The purpose of the series is to explore the innovative integration of arts and food into higher education Each volume aims to inspire a paradigm shift in academia advocating for a more holistic creative and inclusive approach to learning teaching researching serving and existing in the academy In the present volume Food Stories makes the case that food and the culture surrounding food is a closely held and powerful reality that shapes who we are as individuals as members of varied communities and invariably informs who we are as educators and researchers This book gives space for the authors to explore not only the impact that food and culture have had and continue to have on them as individuals how that culture and experiences impact them as members of the academy in teaching research and service but also in providing some guidance to graduate students and junior faculty In effect chapters explore navigating academic work teaching research and service through the lens of food and the transferable lessons that can be gleaned from our grandmothers mothers fathers and our own kitchens It is often the case that higher education fosters both imposter syndrome and a workaholic disposition that can be detrimental to teaching and research What this book does then is to not only explore the ways in which what may seem as non academic work such as cooking a meal can have on our work life balance but also how to incorporate the very lessons of food into who we are as educators how we teach and how we can approach the work we do more broadly Through carefully curated chapters this text presents a wide array of perspectives across food and cultural regions as well as imparting insights from the academy from authors spanning the spectrum of the career It is an important book full of valuable lessons for graduate students faculty and teachers who wish to use its content in their classrooms Perfect for courses such as Cultural Studies Culturally Responsive Pedagogy Personal Leadership in the Age of No Retirement Tatiana S. Rowson, Kelly Sloan, 2025-03-03 We are living longer and often healthier lives than ever before in history Shouldn't our work lives adapt to this new era of longevity By introducing a sustainable personal leadership development approach that is fit for purpose in this era Personal Leadership in the Age of No Retirement addresses the inevitable shift in societal attitudes towards work health wellbeing and expectations around retirement and helps individuals to effectively navigate the coming years of their lives The book provides a model that is flexible inclusive and individualised The authors experts in organisational psychology and management emphasise the need for recalibration of personal leadership goals and actions for sustainable and fulfilling working lives The book's scientific research insights combined with the relatable examples and practical exercises will help mid career business executives professionals and the general reader reflect on their career journey to date and adapt their personal developmental needs in light of new aspirations and realities so they can plan purposeful and meaningful actions to unlock the next chapter successfully Street-Level Architecture Conrad Kickert, Hans Karssen, 2022-08-04 This book provides the tools to maintain and rebuild the interaction between architecture and public space Despite the best intentions of designers and planners interactive frontages have dwindled over the past century in Europe and North America This book demonstrates why even our best intentions for interactive frontages are currently unable to turn a swelling tide of economic and technological evolution land consolidation introversion stratification and contagious decline It uses these lessons to offer concrete locational programming design and management strategies to maximize street level interaction and trust between street level architecture its inhabitants and the city This book demonstrates that designers developers planners and managers ultimately have to create the right preconditions for inhabitants and passersby to bring frontages to life These preconditions connect architecture to its urban social economical and technological context Only the right frontage in the right context with the right design the right inhabitation and the right attitude to the city will become part of the ecosystem of trust and interaction that supports public life This book empowers the many participants in this ecosystem to build inhabit and enjoy truly urbane architecture Writing Out of

Limbo Nina Sichel, Elaine Neil Orr, Faith Eidse, 2011-09-22 Crossing borders and boundaries countries and cultures they are the children of the military diplomatic corps international business education and missions communities They are called Third Culture Kids or Global Nomads and the many benefits of their lifestyle expanded worldview multiplicity of languages tolerance for difference are often mitigated by recurring losses of relationships of stability of permanent roots They are part of an accelerating demographic that is only recently coming into visibility In this groundbreaking collection writers from around the world address issues of language acquisition and identity formation childhood mobility and adaptation memory and grief and the artist s struggle to articulate the experience of growing up global And woven like a thread through the entire collection runs the individual s search for belonging and a place called home This book provides a major leap in understanding what it s like to grow up among worlds It is invaluable reading for the new global age Navigating

Transforming Conflict through Communication in Personal, Family, and Working Relationships Peter M. Kellett,Thomas G. Matyók,2016-11-15 A transformational approach to conflict argues that conflicts must be viewed as embedded within broader relational patterns and social and discursive structures Central to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary situational and small scale or large scale and systemic The momentary involves shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people Momentary transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inward to more personal levels This book engages this transformative framework by bringing together current scholarship that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in personal family and working relationships and organizational contexts The resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and personal experiences from the field of practice and everyday life The book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches including narrative critical intersectional rhetorical and quantitative It makes a valuable additive contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically
