Upwelling Systems of the World Jochen Kämpf,Piers Chapman,2016-08-29 Upwelling systems are special places in the oceans where nutrient enriched water is brought into the euphotic zone to fuel phytoplankton blooms that via marine food web interactions create the world s richest fish resources This book introduces the reader to the interdisciplinary science of upwelling and provides a comprehensive overview of the world s most productive marine ecosystems in the context of climate variability climate change and human exploitation This material presented is suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate study or just for anyone interested to learn about the creation of life in the oceans and how this is compromised by human activities

Bones and Bodies Alan G Morris,2022-01-15 Alan G Morris critically examines the history of evolutionary anthropology in South Africa uncovering the often racist philosophical motivations of these physical anthropology researchers and the discipline itself South Africa is famed for its contribution to the study of human evolution In Bones and Bodies Alan G Morris takes us back over the past century of anthropological discovery in South Africa and uncovers the stories of the individual scientists and how they contributed to our knowledge of the peoples of southern Africa both ancient and modern Not all of this history is one which we should feel comfortable with as much of the earlier anthropological studies have been tainted with the tarred brush of race science Morris critically examines the work of Raymond Dart Thomas Dreyer Matthew Drennan and Robert Broom who all described their fossil discoveries with the mirror of racist interpretation as well as the life and times in which they worked Morris also considers how modern anthropology tried to rid itself of the stigma of these early racist accounts In the 1960s and 1970s Ronald Singer and Phillip Tobias introduced modern methods into the discipline that jettisoned much of what the public wished to believe about race and human evolution Modern methods in physical anthropology rely on sophisticated mathematics and molecular genetics but are difficult to translate and sometimes fail to challenge preconceived assumptions In an age where the authority of the expert and empirical science is questioned this book shows the battle facing modern anthropology in how to explain science in a context that seems to be at odds with life experience In this highly accessible insider account Morris examines the philosophical motivations of these researchers and the discipline itself Much of the material draws on old correspondence and interviews as well as from published resources

Chemical Bodies Alex Mankoo,Brian Rappert,2018-10-19 In warfare civil unrest and political protest chemicals have served as means of coercion suppression and manipulation This book examines how chemical agents have been justified utilised and resisted as means of control Through attending to how when and for whom bodies become rendered as sites of intervention Chemical Bodies demonstrates the inter relations between geopolitical transformations and the technological spatial and social components of local events The chapters draw out some of the insidious ways in which chemical technologies are damaging and re open discussion regarding their justification role and regulation In doing so the contributors illustrate how certain instances of force gain prominence or fade into obscurity how some individuals speak and others get spoken for how definitions of what counts as success and failure are advanced and how the rights and wrongs of violence are contested

A scholarly inquiry into disciplinary practices in educational institutions Connie B. Zulu, Izak J. Oosthuizen, Charl C. Wolhuter, Corene de Wet, Rika Joubert, Ansie E. Kitching, Michael L.
