social structure and Encyclopedia of Race, Ethnicity, and Society Richard T. Schaefer, 2008-03-20 This encyclopedia offers a comprehensive look at the roles race and ethnicity play in society and in our daily lives Over 100 racial and ethnic groups are described with additional thematic essays offering insight into broad topics that cut across group boundaries and which impact on society Recognizing Race and Ethnicity Kathleen J. Fitzgerald, 2014-02-18 Despite radical changes over the last century race remains a central organizing principle in U S society a key arena of inequality and the subject of ongoing conflict and debate In a refreshing new introduction to the sociology of race Recognizing Race and Ethnicity encourages students to think differently by challenging the notion that we are or should even aspire to be color blind In this text Kathleen Fitzgerald considers how the continuing significance of race manifests in both significant and obscure ways by looking across all racial ethnic groups within the socio historical context of institutions and arenas rather than discussing each group by group Incorporating recent research and contemporary theoretical perspectives she guides students to examine racial ideologies and identities as well as structural racism at the same time she covers topics like popular culture sports and interracial relationships that will keep students engaged Recognizing Race and Ethnicity provides unparalleled coverage of white privilege while remaining careful to not treat white as the norm against which all other groups are defined Recognizing Race and Ethnicity makes it clear that in a time when race and racism are constantly evolving in response to varied social contexts societal demands and political climates we all must learn to recognize race if we are to get beyond it

Race and Ethnicity: The Key Concepts Amy Ansell, 2013-02-15 Situating the study of race and ethnicity within its historical and intellectual context this much needed guide exposes students to the broad diversity of scholarship within the field It provides a clear and succinct explanation of more than 70 key terms their conceptual evolution over time and the differing ways in which the concepts are deployed or remain pertinent in current debates Concepts covered include apartheid colonialism constructivism critical race theory eugenics hybridity Islamophobia new modern racism reparations transnationalism Fully cross referenced and with suggestions for further reading Race and Ethnicity The Key Concepts is an ideal resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of race ethnicity and nationalism It will also be of great interest for those studying sociology anthropology politics and cultural studies New Faces in a Changing America Loretta I. Winters, Herman L. DeBose, 2003 New Faces in a Changing America is a comprehensive penetrating authoritative and provocative examination of what it means to be multiracial in this country With contributions by the leading thinkers activists and researchers on the subject it admirably links theory and the powerful lived experiences of mixed race people This book will be the most important reference source on the subject for many years James P Allen California State University Northridge Not since the work of Root has there been as important of an anthology as New Faces in a Changing America This book explores the reality of multiracial people from a variety of theoretical and conceptual perspectives It is a must read for anybody who want to understand the multiracial movement and the multiracial people who lead that movement Any teacher who wants to introduce the concept of multiraciality to his/her class must also have this book. Winters and Debose are to be commended for putting together this first-rate academic examination of an important social phenomenon. George Yancey, University of North Texas, How multiracial people identify themselves can have major consequences on their positions in their families, communities, and society. Even the U.S. Census has recognized the rapidly increasing numbers of those who consider themselves multiracial, adding a new racial category to the 2000 Census form: two or more races. New Faces in a Changing America: Multiracial Identity in the 21st Century examines the multiracial experience, its history, and the political issues and consequences surrounding biracial and multiracial identity, bringing together top names in the field to give readers cutting-edge views and insights gained from contemporary research. This important new text follows the trail blazed by Maria Root, who contributes its opening chapter. An introduction places the issues of multiracial identity into context via a discussion of U.S. Census data and debates, providing an overview of the varied readings to come. Covering such topics as Race as a social rather than biological construction, The Multiracial Movement, Racial Ethnic Groups in America, and Beyond Race Gender, human service professionals including psychologists, counselors, social workers, and school personnel, and importantly, multiracial individuals themselves. Jornalero Juan Thomas Ordonez, 2015-05-01

The United States has seen a dramatic rise in the number of informal day labor sites in the last two decades. Typically frequented by Latin American men, mostly undocumented immigrants, these sites constitute an important source of unskilled manual labor. Despite day laborers' ubiquitous presence in urban areas, however, their very existence is overlooked in much of the research on immigration. While standing in plain view, these jornaleros live and work in a precarious environment as they try to make enough money to send home; they are at the mercy of unscrupulous employers doing dangerous and underpaid work and ultimately experiencing great threats to their identities and social roles as men. Juan Thomas Ordonez spent two years on an informal labor site in the San Francisco Bay Area, documenting the harsh lives led by some of these men during the worst economic crisis that the United States has seen in decades. He earned a perspective on the immigrant experience based on close relationships with a cohort of men who grappled with constant competition, stress, and loneliness. Both eye-opening and heartbreaking, the book offers a unique perspective on how the informal economy of undocumented labor truly functions in American society.

Rethorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century Charles A. Gallagher, France Winddance Twine, 2014-01-02

Rethorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century examines the role whiteness and white identities play in framing and reworking racial categories, hierarchies, and boundaries within the context of nation, class, gender, and immigration. It takes as its theoretical starting point the understanding that whiteness is not, and nor has it ever been, a static, uniform category of social identification. The scholarship in this book uses new empirical studies to show whiteness as a multiplicity of identities that are historically grounded, class-specific, politically manipulated, and gendered social relations that inhabit local custom and national sentiment. Contributors to this book examine a wide range of issues, yet all chapters are linked by one common denominator they examine how power and oppression are articulated redefined and asserted through various political discourses and cultural practices that privilege whiteness even when the prerogatives of the dominant group are contested Retheorizing Race and Whiteness in the 21st Century is an important new contribution to the study of whiteness for academics researchers and advanced students of Ethnic Studies Sociology Political Science and Ethnography This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Race and Crime Shaun L. Gabbidon, Helen Taylor Greene, 2012-03-22 Race and Crime presents students with a comprehensive analysis of the issues relating to race and crime in the US The book is illustrated with numerous photographs and exercises based on Internet research are included

Transcending Racial Barriers Michael O. Emerson, George Yancey, 2010-12-21 Transcending Racial Barriers offers both a historical overview of racism in American society and an illuminating analysis of the common interests between races that can provide a powerful new approach towards ending racial inequality It is a bold step forward in the debate about what sort of public policies can overcome the ethnocentrism inherent in so much of the racism we suffer from

The Family in Global Perspective Elaine J. Leeder, 2004 The Family in Global Perspective is an exciting new cross cultural text that should be adopted for classroom use in universities nationwide Elaine Leeder has created a readable interesting textbook for undergraduates that reveals the historical socio cultural and gender realities of family life Real life examples from 42 countries support student understandings of sociological theory and build a comprehensive awareness of family as a way of being for people throughout the world Peter Phillips Sonoma State University I think it would be a great book for a class in Family Studies In the Family Studies field we have come to realize that the family as we see it is not how peoples of the world necessarily see it I think exposing all Family Studies students to this text would greatly enhance their educational development written in very comprehensible language for undergraduates Yvonne M Caldera Ph D Texas Tech University I find the book overall is well done it is very readable for undergraduates the author is good at interweaving interesting research and travel notes with theories and discussions about families in a global perspective in various places The style is refreshing particularly enticing for undergraduate readers Heying Jenny Zahn Georgia State University The book is rather unique in the sense that there are few works that place the U S family within a larger global framework The comparisons that are made across societies serve to enhance understanding of family patterns in the United States I also should mention that the book is well written and in an interesting way too It successfully combines important academic material with a thought provoking style of presentation Sharon K Houseknecht Ohio State University What is a family In the context of biology the answer may be fairly simple However in the social context the family is a far more complex form with a meaning that is multilayered The Family in Global Perspective A Gendered Journey examines the continually changing face of family life in the United States and from culture to culture Written in an engaging style the book provides a global viewpoint about family issues enabling readers to think critically about family life in cultures beyond their own In The Family in Global Perspective author Elaine Leeder uses various historical theoretical and comparative perspectives to develop a cross cultural understanding of family life The book examines a variety of family lives in western countries and contrasts them with those of families in parts of Africa Asia and Latin America After comparing the history of the family in various parts of the globe the author then looks at the impact of globalization on family structures gendered behavior intergenerational relationships relationship dissolution race ethnicity and class issues violence and social policy Features of this text Expresses a feminist view of family life and includes case examples from the author's own experiences visiting and studying families in 42 countries Organized topically rather than by country or culture to facilitate instruction on a particular component of family life Pedagogical features such as an accessible format chapter introductions vignettes and photos highlighted key terms and chapter summaries enhance students understanding The Family in Global Perspective is an ideal supplementary textbook for courses on marriage and the family in a variety of disciplines including Family Studies Sociology Social Work Psychology and Women's Studies Biculturalism, Self Identity and Societal Development Rutledge M. Dennis, 2008-10-01 Offers fresh theoretical and methodological insights into biculturalism as a reality in many societies This work presents a variety of methodological strategies and techniques case studies autoethnography content analysis participant observation the national survey and structured and unstructured interviews Canada at a Crossroads Jeffrey Denis, 2020-04-02 Winner of the John Porter Tradition of Excellence Book Award Canada at a Crossroads draws on group position theory settler colonial studies critical race theory and Indigenous theorizing Canada at a Crossroads emphasizes the social psychological barriers to transforming white settler ideologies and practices and working towards decolonization After tracing settlers sense of group superiority and entitlement to historical and ongoing colonial processes Denis illustrates how contemporary Indigenous and settler residents think about and relate to one another He highlights how despite often having close cross group relationships residents maintain conflicting perspectives on land culture history and treaties and Indigenous residents frequently experience interpersonal and systemic racism Denis then critically assesses the promise and pitfalls of commonly proposed solutions including intergroup contact education apologies and collective action and concludes that genuine reconciliation will require radically restructuring Canadian society and perpetually fulfilling treaty responsibilities

The Welfare Society - an Aim for Social Development Roar Sundby, Arno Heimgartner, 2016 Is the concept of the welfare society an aim for social development from a European perspective The International Consortium for Social Development is an organization of practitioners scholars and students in the human services that addresses this question The concept of the welfare society is under constant transformation and pressure The Nordic countries are identified as models for the welfare state system However a revised perspective on the concept includes a broader definition of the social production of well being The book investigates the relation with non governmental bodies civil society and social commons to public services and it places strong focus on the inclusion of disadvantaged groups Series Social Issues Soziale Arbeit Vol 20 Subject Politics Sociology What Don't Kill Us Makes Us Stronger Kamesha Spates, 2015-12-03 A close look at black women's physical mental and social circumstances reveals harmful social disparities Yet for decades black women's suicide rates have remained virtually nonexistent compared to the rest of the American population baffling social scientists In this book black women speak for themselves about their life struggles and their notions of suicide Within a framework that explores racial and gender inequalities Spates uses interviews to uncover reasons for the racial suicide paradox Her analysis offers a deeper understanding of the positive life strategies including family and faith that underlie black women's resilience Provides insights into the impact of a variety of racial and gender inequalities Vivid use of qualitative approaches to shed light on a statistical paradox Highlights a positive image of black women and their resilience Getting Real About Race Stephanie M. McClure, Cherise A. Harris, 2017-08-24 This popular reader is an edited collection of short essays that address the most common myths and misconceptions about race and racism held by students and by many in the United States in general In the updated Second Edition of Getting Real About Race editors Stephanie M McClure and Cherise A Harris continue to enlist leading experts and educators to address the arguments about topics that students will recognize from private conversations and public discourse including colorblindness meritocracy educational attainment and definitions of citizenship Each essay considers the evidence against one particular racial myth and is written in clear jargon free language The unique format of this book makes it especially conducive to productive discussions about race
