book series includes texts on psychology and international relations causation counterfactual analysis The political psychology contributions draw on richer ancient Greek understandings of the psyche and offer novel insights into strategies of conflict management the role of emotions in international relations and the modern fixation on identity Constructing Cause in International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2014-02-20 A novel approach to cause that builds on human reasons for acting and the consequences of behaviour by multiple actors Richard Ned Lebow: Major Texts on Methods and Philosophy of Science Richard Ned Lebow,2016-09-01 This book about the philosophy of science is the second out of four volumes by Richard Ned Lebow in this book series It not only provides a useful overview of this broad topic but also provides deeper insight into specific topics like the philosophy of science causation epistemology and methods and especially on counterfactual analysis Reason and Cause Richard Ned Lebow,2020-03-12 A cultural history of the concepts of reason and cause showing that they are culturally and historically local National Identities and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2016-10-20 Identity is the master variable for many constructivist scholars of international politics In this comparative study Richard Ned Lebow shows that states do not have identities any more than people do Leaders peoples and foreign actors seek to impose national identifications consistent with their political projects and psychological needs These identifications are multiple fluid and rise in importance as a function of priming and context Leaders are at least as likely to invoke national identifications as rationalizations for policies pursued for other reasons as they are to be influenced by them National identifications are nevertheless important because they invariably stress the alleged uniqueness of a people and its country and are a principal means of seeking status and building self esteem Lebow tracks the relative appeal of these principles the ways in which they are constructed how they influence national identifications and how they in turn affect regional and international practices Why Nations Still Fight Richard Ned Lebow,2026-01-31 Drawing on an original data set of interventions and wars from 1945 to the current day as well as numerous short case studies Richard Ned Lebow offers a novel account of their origins and outcomes one that emphasises miscalculation failure to conduct meaningful risk assessments and cultural and political arrogance In a successive work to Why Nations Fight 2010 he explains why initiators routinely lose militarily and politically when they resort to force as well as accounting for why the great powers in particular have not learned from their failures Lebow offers both type and region specific forecasts for the future likelihood of interventions and wars His account reveals the inapplicability of theories nested in the realist and rationalist paradigms to the study of war He argues what is needed instead is an irrationalist theory and he takes the initial steps in this direction

A Cultural Theory of International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2008-12-11 An original theory of politics and international relations based on ancient Greek ideas of human motivation A Democratic Foreign Policy Richard Ned Lebow,2019-07-26 In 2020 America will elect a president deciding not just the trajectory of its national politics but the future of American foreign policy Will the Alt Right nationalist and mercantilist approaches to international trade that characterized

Donald Trump's rise to power maintain its hold Or will the national security establishment ultimately prevail continuing the illusion of the indispensable nation In A Democratic Foreign Policy renowned IR scholar Ned Lebow draws upon decades of research and government experience to reject both options and set forth an alternative vision of American foreign policy one based on a tragic understanding of life and politics Lebow challenges the assumptions of establishment voices on both sides of the aisle and offers a probing rethinking of America's role in the world to disrupt the inertia of a bipartisan ideology that has dominated foreign policymaking since the days of Truman Emphasizing the importance of America's core values for shaping domestic and foreign policies A Democratic Foreign Policy provides a vision and blueprint for a new congress and president to reorient America's relationship with the world

The Politics and Ethics of Identity Richard Ned Lebow, 2012-08-30 We are multiple fragmented and changing selves who nevertheless believe we have unique and consistent identities What accounts for this illusion Why has the problem of identity become so central in post war scholarship fiction and the media Following Hegel Richard Ned Lebow contends that the defining psychological feature of modernity is the tension between our reflexive and social selves To address this problem Westerners have developed four generic strategies of identity construction that are associated with four distinct political orientations Lebow develops his arguments through comparative analysis of ancient and modern literary philosophical religious and musical texts He asks how we might come to terms with the fragmented and illusionary nature of our identities and explores some political and ethical implications of doing so

Avoiding War, Making Peace Richard Ned Lebow, 2017-08-23 This book recapitulates and extends Ned Lebow's decades long research on conflict management and resolution It updates his critique of conventional and nuclear deterrence analysis of reassurance and the conditions in which international conflicts may be amenable to resolution or failing that a significant reduction in tensions This text offers a holistic approach to conflict management and resolution by exploring interactions among deterrence reassurance and diplomacy and how they might most effectively be staged and combined

Between Peace and War Richard Ned Lebow, 2020-08-31 This is an updated edition of the now classic original of the same title It has three new substantial chapters a prologue a chapter on new evidence on World War I and an epilogue The updated edition contains the now famous typology of international crisis the original critique of deterrence the emphasis on agency and the turn to political psychology to explain sharp departures from rational policy making The new chapters update and reevaluate these arguments and approach a critical hindsight assessment in light of post Cold War developments

Murder At The Monastery Richard Ned LeBow, 2025-05-05 Murder at the Monastery is a fast paced cat and mouse game between opposing assassins and the police Inspector Khan of the Cambridge Constabulary cooperates with Italian police and MI 5 to prevent the export of military technology to Russia It is full of local English and Italian color and has a dramatic fast paced and clever plot

Taming Sino-American Rivalry Richard Ned Lebow, Feng Zhang, 2020-07-01 Competition between America and China has intensified since 2009 creating even greater risks of conflict Why is this so and what can be done about it In Taming Sino American Rivalry Feng Zhang and Richard Ned Lebow reject the prevailing idea that competition between a dominant and a rising power must necessarily lead to conflict Rather they identify the mistakes that both countries have made and explain the causes and consequences of their missteps Drawing on international relations theory and lessons from history they develop a comprehensive approach to conflict management and resolution that balances deterrence reassurance and diplomacy A challenge to the prevailing pessimism Taming Sino American Rivalry is essential reading for anyone interested in understanding the world s most important bilateral relationship Ethics and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2020-10-01 Lebow demonstrates that foreign policies consistent with generally accepted ethical norms are more likely to succeed and those at odds with them to fail Constructing original data sets and analyzing multiple case studies Lebow makes an empirical case for ethics in international relations His approach looks to create a productive dialogue between those who ask primarily ought questions and those who pose is questions The former want to establish appropriate criteria for the behaviour of state and non state actors and the discourses that lead to their policy decisions whereas scholars who pose is questions are concerned with how political actors behave and the principles and assumptions that might explain their behaviour Lebow bridges the gap between is and ought questions by making an instrumental argument in favour of ethical foreign policy He examines policymaking as well as policy offering ethical guidelines for policymaking that are likely to result in more successful policies Rough Waters and Other Stories Richard Lebow,2023-11-24 Rough Waters and Other Stories is a collection of original stories addressing different ethical questions and dilemmas An introduction makes connections among the stories puts them in personal and political perspective and anchors them in a tragic understanding of life and ethics The characters in Rough Waters and Other Stories some based on real historical people must make or finesse ethical choices some of them straight forward others tragic in nature Tragic choices involve trade offs between seemingly irreconcilable but important goals Alternatively they entail committing ourselves to decisions or policies whose outcomes are uncertain We are desperate to avoid tragic choices and prone to convince ourselves often in the face of good evidence that we can satisfy all of our desires or needs instead of making difficult choices between or among them We also tend to convince ourselves that our decisions or policies will succeed in proportion to the degree that we feel compelled to commit to them A standard trope of Greek tragedy think here of Oedipus is that our choices sometimes lead directly to the outcomes we are trying desperately to avoid
