Salvi, 2024-09-02 Word classes are linguistic categories serving as basis in the description of the vocabulary and grammar of natural languages While important publications are regularly devoted to their definition identification and classification in the field of Romance linguistics we lack a comprehensive state of the art overview of the current research This Manual offers an updated and detailed discussion of all relevant aspects related to word classes in the Romance languages In the first part word classes are discussed from both a theoretical and historical point of view The second part of the volume takes as its point of departure single word classes described transversally in all the main Romance languages while the third observes the relevant word classes from the point of view of specific Romance based varieties The fourth part explores Romance word classes at the interface of grammar and other fields of research The Manual is intended as a reference work for all scholars and students interested in the description of both the standard major Romance languages and the smaller lesser described Romance based varieties Bibliography of Scientific and Industrial Reports ,1971 Bloodied Banners Robert W. Jones, 2010 Groundbreaking reassessment of the role played by armour weapons and heraldry in medieval warfare showing their cultural as well as military significance A penetrating investigation of medieval martial display The reader is struck by its originality and by its sophisticated and critical interpretative engagement with historical and literary sources Particularly notable is the author's subtle exploration of the function of armour not only its practical role but as a form of display A refreshingly different approach to the world of the medieval combatant and his place within that host of many colours that was a medieval army it adds a new dimension to our understanding of medieval warfare Dr ANDREW AYTON Senior Lecturer in History University of Hull The medieval battlefield was a place of spectacle and splendour The fully armed knight bedecked in his vivid heraldic colours mounted on his great charger riding out beneath his brightly painted banner is a stock image of war and the warrior in the middle ages Yet too often the significance of such display has been ignored or dismissed as the empty preening of a militaristic social elite Drawing on a broad range of source material and using innovative historical approaches this book completely re evaluates the way that such men and their weapons were viewed showing that martial display was a vital part of the way in which war was waged in the middle ages It maintains that heraldry and livery served not only to advertise a warrior's family and social ties but also announced his presence on the battlefield and right to wage war It also considers the physiological and psychological effect of wearing armour both on the wearer and those facing him in combat arguing that the need for display in battle was deeper than any medieval cultural construct and was based in the fundamental biological drives of threat and warning ROBERT W JONES gained his PhD from Cardiff University
