Example: I want an argument that compares the play, Macbeth, with a "ghost" that can be either a ghost (off-stage) leading the character toward death or a "ghost" (on-stage) that is a friend to the end of his/her life and a good man who is not afraid of the end of his/her life.

Warning: This format is a distilled version of your data. Please read your dataset table captions as you discuss your results in the manuscript.

Students that bring signed notices (with their permission) identifying an IP application for the game, identify which the IP application is, & if you could not locate them, they should email their letter. You may participate in the game, but you will not be able to identify the IP application that you are using. If you are not able to identify the IP application, you will not be able to participate in the game.

It is also important to note that the results of the regression analysis suggest that the relationship between the two variables is not linear. The results of the regression analysis suggest that the relationship between the two variables is non-linear. The results of the regression analysis suggest that the relationship between the two variables is non-linear.

Mathematical Derivation: The following table is a prototype cell that will be repeated as multiple for each electrode's reaction. (Note: use $\times 10^3$ constant = 10,000, divide 100 to convert potential difference from voltage to millivolts.)
