Causation and Responsibility is probably the most important publication in the philosophy of law since the publication of Hart's and Honore's Causation in the Law in 1959. This volume offers for the first time a detailed exchange between legal and philosophical scholars over Moore's most recent work. In particular, it pioneers the dialogue between English speaking and German philosophy of law on a broad range of pressing foundational questions concerning causation in the law. It thereby fulfills the need for a comprehensive international and critical discussion of Moore's influential arguments. The 15 contributors to the proposed volume span the whole interdisciplinary field from law and morals to metaphysics and the authors include distinguished criminal and tort lawyers as well as prominent theoretical and practical philosophers from four nations. In addition, young researchers take brand new approaches in the field. The collection is essential reading for anyone interested in legal and moral theory.

English Journal, 2000 Handbook of Research on Teaching Drew Gitomer, Courtney Bell, 2016-05-19

The Fifth Edition of the Handbook of Research on Teaching is an essential resource for students and scholars dedicated to the study of teaching and learning. This volume offers a vast array of topics ranging from the history of teaching to technological and literacy issues. In each authoritative chapter, the authors summarize the state of the field while providing conceptual overviews of critical topics related to research on teaching. Each of the volume's 23 chapters is a canonical piece that will serve as a reference tool for the field. The Handbook provides readers with an unparalleled view of the current state of research on teaching across its multiple facets and related fields.

Real Fourdimensionalism Ludwig Jaskolla, 2017-10-19

This book explores persistence taking human beings as an example case. It investigates how concrete particulars stay the same during their temporal carriers while changing significantly. Themes of relativity, structural realism, 4-dimensional ontologies, and different strains of panpsychism are amongst those addressed in this work. Beginning with an exploration of the puzzle of persistence, early chapters look at philosophers' perspectives and models of persistence. Competitors in the debate are introduced from classical 3-dimensionalism to two flavors of 4-dimensionalism, namely worm theory and stage theory. The second part of the book explores the various challenges to 4-dimensionalism and develops a positive taxonomy of those questions that the reasonable proponent of 4-dimensionism needs to answer. In the third part of the book, readers may explore an ontology at the interface of analytic metaphysics and philosophy of mind called Real Fourdimensionalism or more specifically Physicalistic Stage Panexperientialism (PSP). This is a version of panexperiential stage theory and its alleged model of persistence as deciding answers the questions of the taxonomy. This book makes a substantial contribution to debates concerning the status, extent, and viability of both stage-theoretic models of persistence as well as non-reductive naturalistic models of persistence. It will be of interest to graduates and scholars involved in analytic metaphysics as well as the philosophy of mind, especially those specializing in questions of persistence and the ontology of the mind.

A New Education for New Minds Marquis R. Nave, 2014-08-15

The education system provides a great way to peer into the potential of the human mind, but it comes up short in unleashing it. Marquis R.
