School Safety Paper:

School Safety Susan T. Vickers, Kevin L. Smith, 2020-08-15 The day after the deadly shooting at the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School the rallying cry heard across the country was no more school shootings It was clearly evident that school shootings are increasing and reactive measures are not going to change this Images from Parkland Sandy Hook and Columbine made it ever so clear that whereas the atrocities caught our attention schools are still soft targets There are no manuals from the United States Department of Education to turn to for guidance to secure schools No guidance on how to train administration and staff as they truly are the first responders in such an event Rather than wait for the heads of the federal and state education departments to step up and take action the time has come for all school leaders and administrators to take the step to protect their school communities This book will help school leaders and administrators proactively take action to protect their school communities and yet still maintain a warm and nurturing learning environment

School Safety Programs, 1986 School Safety and Security Lessons in Danger OECD, 2005-01-17 Lessons in Danger the result of a joint OECD US Department of Education collaboration provides valuable insight into how school safety and security particularly in emergency situations are addressed in over 14 countries School Safety and Security Keeping Schools Safe in Earthquakes OECD, 2004-07-27 This book resents expert knowledge opinions and experiences and provides valuable insight into the scope of problems involved in protecting schools and their occupants from earthquakes

Safety Education, 1927 Making Paper, 1928 Unequally Safe, 2015 School safety is a critical issue for school staff policy makers and parents Efforts to promote safety often focus on reducing school violence and disorder including zero tolerance disciplinary policies metal detectors and police officers in schools Yet little is known about how safe students feel at school and how safety varies within schools Using survey data for the population of middle school students in a large urban school district this article identifies gaps in feelings of safety between Black students Hispanic students and their White and Asian peers Key characteristics of schools and neighborhoods that relate to safety gaps are identified Making Schools Safe from Fire William Guerin, 1917 Plenary Papers of the 1999 Conference on Criminal Justice Research and Evaluation--enhancing Policy and Practice Through Research: Preventing school violence, 1999 Foreword This year's annual conference on criminal justice research and evaluation is a milestone of sorts Some 30 years ago the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice noted with alacrity that the revolution of scientific discovery had largely bypassed the problems of crime and crime control The method of objective analysis that had been used with stunning success to raise living standards help people live healthier lives and explore the heavens had unaccountably failed to be applied to one of the era's most pressing problems To the great good fortune of succeeding generations the Commission in its wisdom recommended creation of a Federal research agency dedicated to the scientific study of crime and criminal justice with the aim of informing and aiding the work of practitioners The National Institute of Justice the agency established by Congress to carry out that mission has for the past three decades been seeing the returns on that investment multiply Criminology has become a respected field of scholarly inquiry and we have built an impressive body of knowledge that has helped us better understand criminal behavior and the justice system More important the results of scholarly inquiries have been and are being applied to the day to day operations of law enforcement corrections the courts and other elements of the justice system In the conference which revisited the Commission with the theme Enhancing Policy and Practice Through Research we saw how the investment continues to yield returns The plenary sessions in particular emphasized praxis research put to the service of real world situations Because of the distinctiveness of this year s plenary panels we decided to publish them in three separate volumes viewing crime from the street level addressing school violence through research based policy developed through an interdisciplinary approach and understanding the involvement of women and girls in the criminal justice system Sudhir Venkatesh and Richard Curtis bring the ethnographer s perspective to the analysis of street crime analyzing respectively the financial activity of gangs and recent trends in drug dealing Their method distinct from that of conventional quantitative social science calls for intensive observation over long periods and involves the quest for what is a iv specific to single places and times and what is generalizable The close up street level observations of study subjects offer singular insights for practitioners who deal with these individuals as offenders In this panel we also benefited from the perspective of Charles Ramsey Chief of the Metropolitan Police Department Washington D C His indication that drug trafficking and gang crime persist in his jurisdiction despite the overall drop in crime offers proof of the ethnographer s caution against facile generalization This year marks the first time the program offices of the Office of Justice Programs OJP the Corrections Program Office the Drug Courts Program Office the Executive Office for Weed and Seed and the Violence Against Women Office have joined the OJP bureaus as conference sponsors Because these offices work so closely with the practitioner community I feel their sponsorship is an added expression of their commitment to research I think they would endorse Chief Ramsey s succinct assessment of the role of research in affecting crime levels in the years to come as bringing to light findings useful for fashioning real world solutions The best way to predict the future the Chief said is to help create it Those who wish to read more can find abstracts of the conference sessions on the World Wide Web at <http://www.ilj.org> Jeremy Travis Director National Institute of Justice
