Roman Theatres Frank Sear, 2006-07-20 This book is an up to date and comprehensive account of Roman theatre architecture It contains information plans and photographs of every theatre in the Roman Empire for which there is archaeological evidence together with a full analysis of how Roman theatres were designed built and paid for and how theatres differ in different parts of the Roman Empire It is lavishly illustrated with plans text figures photographs and maps

Travel Fact and Travel Fiction Z. R. W. M. von Martels, 1994 Travel Fact and Travel Fiction contains 18 articles by different authors on important examples of travel writing from Classical Antiquity Herodotus until the first half of the nineteenth century Discussed are among others Herodotus Egeria Rubruck Marco Polo Columbus Joachim Du Bellay Busbequius Gryphius Goethe and Dickens Central themes are fiction literary tradition scholarly discovery and observation

A History of Archaeological Tourism Margarita Díaz-Andreu, 2020-02-24 This book examines the relationship between archaeological tourism and professional archaeology To do so it explores the connection most visibly through nationalism and global capitalism from its origins in the early modern period to World War II How separate is the development of archaeological tourism from that of the formation of archaeology as a discipline And do the fields operate in two different worlds Scholarly discussions have largely treated them as distinct fields with no connection while histories of archaeology in particular have focused on aspects such as the history of archaeological discoveries archaeological thought and more recently the political relationship between archaeology and nationalism and other ideologies Largely missing from all these accounts has been an examination of how archaeology has been incorporated into society for example through something that all humans enjoy leisure in the form of archaeological tourism Moreover just as histories of archaeology have largely ignored the connection between archaeology and tourism so too has tourism in the reverse direction Recent studies on tourism have centered on topics such as economy sustainable and recession tourism and new types of tourism including ecotourism and medical tourism
