Standardized Testing in Canada Ross E. Traub, Canadian Education Association, 1994 A survey was undertaken to obtain information about the use of standardized tests in assessing the achievement of Canadian elementary and secondary school students This information was garnered from the ministries or departments of education of all ten Canadian provinces and one territory and a sample of about 120 of the local school boards in the country The questionnaires sent to the ministries and school boards were similar and consisted of two parts The first part contained questions of a general nature about the province wide testing program if any that had been conducted during the 1991 92 school year The second part of the questionnaire was focused on the particular tests used in system wide testing by province or board during any of the four academic years 1989 90 to 1992 93 Bulletin ... Misc[ellaneous] United States. Office of Education, 1960 Building Types and Built Forms Philip Steadman, 2014-02-28 Building Types and Built Forms weaves two books together in alternating chapters one about the history of building types the other about their geometry The first book follows the histories of some common types of building houses hospitals schools offices and prisons Examples are drawn from the 19th and early 20th centuries in France America and Britain with the central focus on London They include the pavilion hospitals associated with the name of Florence Nightingale English Board and Modernist schools of the 1920s and 30s tall office buildings in Chicago and New York Jeremy Bentham s Panopticon penitentiary and radial prisons on the model of Cherry Hill and Pentonville The second book takes these histories and uses them to explore how the forms of these buildings are constrained by some of the basic functions of architecture to provide daylight and ventilation to the interior to provide access to all rooms or to allow occupants to see from one part of a building to another A new way of thinking about these worlds of geometrical possibility is introduced in which the forms of many buildings can be catalogued and laid out systematically in morphospaces or theoretical spaces of forms As building types change over time they come to occupy different positions within the worlds of possible forms Building Types and Built Forms is filled with over 400 illustrations many drawn especially for the book It offers a new theoretical approach combined with a series of historical accounts of building types some well known some less familiar It should appeal to academics practitioners historians and students of architecture
