American Capitalism and Chinese Socialism Wendy Larson,2025-10-09 This book examines and interprets the uncanny similarity between capitalism and socialism over the twentieth century as both systems found ways to encourage happiness and optimism in their citizens As inheritors of the Enlightenment s emphasis on scientific rationality these cultures sought to instill in their citizens a belief in progress in essence history shows steady improvement and the future will continue in this direction indefinitely Optimism which bears a temporal quality a continual gaze to the future is the favored state of mind in both capitalist and socialist societies which have embraced progress as a theory of history Related to optimism is happiness which emphasizes the present When progress as a theory of history is generally accepted happiness becomes a transference of future advancement into present subjectivity ultimately expressing acceptance of and satisfaction with society Fundamentally a literary study strongly embedded in history this project looks to fiction to show not only how imaginary characters became models for readers but also how narrative encouraged readers to engage in a struggle for new values Characters worked out or failed to work out questions related to the personal and larger cultural shaping of an ongoing optimism At the same time writers questioned these models and purposefully or otherwise displayed the downsides of excessive mandated or coerced optimism They also challenged the way in which optimism encompassed a belief in progress that itself could be camouflaged and the demands for a happiness that imposed everyone else s wellbeing before one s own The book compares Yang Mo s famous Song of Youth 1958 with Horatio Alger Jr s Ragged Dick 1868 Eleanor Hodgman Porter s Pollyanna 1913 and Frederick Kohner s Gidget 1957 Wang Meng s Long Live Youth written 1953 and A Young Man Arrives at the Organization Department 1956 are evaluated against Jack Kerouac s On the Road 1958 This study both incorporates and challenges various political and cultural theoretical concepts including revolutionary optimism permanent revolution the theory of literary typicality the New Soviet Person and the positive hero optimistic autosuggestion cultural authenticity and positive thinking Out of the Crucible Zuoya Cao,2003-01-01 Out of the Crucible offers an informative

Barlow, 1993 Through the lens of modern Chinese literature Gender Politics in Modern China explores the relationship between gender and modernity notions of the feminine and masculine and shifting arguments for gender equality in China Ranging from interviews with contemporary writers to historical accounts of gendered writing in Taiwan and semi colonial China to close feminist readings of individual authors these essays confront the degree to which textual strategies construct notions of gender Among the specific themes discussed are how femininity is produced in texts by allocating women to domestic space the extent to which textual production lies at the base of a changing historically specific code of the feminine the extent to which women in modern Chinese societies are products of literary canons the ways in which the historical processes of gendering have operated in Chinese modernity vis vis modernity in the West the representation of feminists as avengers and as westernized women and the meager recognition of feminism as a serious intellectual current and a large body of theory Originally published as a special issue of Modern Chinese Literature Spring Fall 1988 this expanded book represents some of the most compelling new work in post Mao feminist scholarship and will appeal to all those concerned with understanding a revitalized feminism in the Chinese context Contributors Carolyn Brown Ching kiu Stephen Chan Sung sheng Yvonne Chang Yu shih Chen Rey Chow Randy Kaplan Richard King Wolfgang Kubin Wendy Larson Lydia Liu Seung Yeun Daisy Ng Jon Solomon Meng Yue Wang Zheng Morning Sun Laifong Leung, Jan Walls, 2016-09-16 This is a collection of interviews with 26 writers of China s zhiqing generation relatively young artists who participated in the Cultural Revolution as teen age Red Guards suffered through the subsequent rustication of intellectual youth and eventually returned to relatively normal lives but always with a tragic hiatus haunting their formative years While one goal of Professor Leung is to introduce to the West an important group of writers little known outside China she also aims to succeed through the interviews in providing a special perspective on the devastating political history of China since the 1970s years through the eyes of its keenest observers and in offering a perspective on the social political and cultural milieu of the period The Stanford Companion to Victorian Fiction John Sutherland, 1989 An engaging guide

The Athenaeum ,1844 New Perspectives on the Cultural Revolution William A. Joseph,Christine P.W. Wong,David Zweig,2020-10-26 Since the Cultural Revolution data have been uncovered to illuminate that tumultuous decade In this volume 13 scholars examine the gap between the ideology of the Revolution and the harsh and contradictory reality of its outcome They focus particularly on the violence coercion and constant tension between the need for centralization to enforce policies and the need for decentralizing decision making if those goals were to be achieved

Milestones on a Golden Road Richard King,2013-01-15 In Milestones on a Golden Road Richard King presents pivotal works of fiction produced in four key periods of Chinese revolutionary history the civil war 1945 49 the Great Leap Forward 1958 60 the Cultural Revolution 1966 76 and the post Mao catharsis 1979 80 Taking its cues from the Soviet Union s optimistic depictions of a society liberated by Communism the official Chinese literature of this era is characterized by grand narratives of progress Addressing questions of literary production King looks at how writers dealt with shifting ideological demands what indigenous and imported traditions inspired them and how they were able to depict a utopian Communist future to their readers even as the present took a very different turn Early red classics were followed by works featuring increasingly lurid images of joyful socialism and later by fiction exposing the Mao era as an age of irrationality arbitrary rule and suffering a Golden Road that had led to nowhere

Modern Chinese Literature ,1989 Visions of Dystopia in China's New Historical Novels Jeffrey C. Kinkley,2014-11-18 The depiction of personal and collective suffering in modern Chinese novels differs significantly from standard Communist accounts and many Eastern and Western historical narratives Writers such as

Yu Hua Su Tong Wang Anyi Mo Yan Han Shaogong Ge Fei Li Rui and Zhang Wei skew and scramble common conceptions of China's modern development deploying avant garde narrative techniques from Latin American and Euro American modernism to project a surprisingly un-Chinese dystopian vision and critical view of human culture and ethics The epic narratives of modern Chinese fiction make rich use of magical realism surrealism and unusual treatments of historical time Also featuring graphic depictions of sex and violence as well as dark raunchy comedy these novels reflect China's recent history re-presenting the overthrow of the monarchy in the early twentieth century and the resulting chaos of revolution and war the recurring miseries perpetrated by class warfare during the dictatorship of Mao Zedong and the social dislocations caused by China's industrialization and rise as a global power This book casts China's highbrow historical novels from the late 1980s to the first decade of the twenty first century as a distinctively Chinese contribution to the form of the global dystopian novel and consequently to global thinking about the interrelations of utopia and dystopia
