House of Commons - Business, Innovation and Skills Committee: Draft Consumer Rights Bill - HC 697-II Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Business, Innovation and Skills Committee,2013-12-23 The Government s draft Consumer Rights Bill has the potential to consolidate simplify and modernise consumer law however issues and inconsistencies must be resolved The current proposals would apply a statutory right that services under a contract must be provided with reasonable care and skill a fault based standard This does not provide sufficient consumer protection The Draft Bill should require that services must achieve the stated result or one which could be reasonably expected an outcomes based standard As the Bank of Ireland case demonstrated the right to terminate a contract does not necessarily protect consumers from detriment This report recommends an addition to the grey list the indicative list of contract terms which may be regarded as unfair The Government s proposals for enhanced consumer measures which would require traders that have breached consumer law to compensate consumers are welcome However private enforcers should also be able to use them The collective proceedings regime has the potential to improve access to redress for victims of competition law breaches but the Government must clarify the certification requirements for such proceedings The creation of rights and remedies for digital content is welcome but the Government must do more to communicate how the proposals will work in practice Under the draft Bill the remedies available to consumers of digital content would depend on whether the content is intangible such as a music download or tangible such as a CD In appropriate circumstances consumers should have the right to reject and obtain a refund irrespective of whether they purchase intangible or tangible digital content Trackman Arco Publishing Company,1947 Everything You Need to Know about Being a Legal Assistant Chere B.
