Pedagogies to Enhance Learning for Indigenous Students Robyn Jorgensen, Peter Sullivan, Peter

Grootenboer, 2012-11-19 This book describes research undertaken by leading Australian researcher in Indigenous communities. While the chapters are Australian in their focus, the issues that are discussed are similar to those in other countries where there are indigenous people. In most cases in Australia and internationally, Indigenous learners are not succeeding in school, thus making the transition into work and adulthood quite tenuous in terms of mainstream measures. The importance of being literate and numerate are critical in success in school and life in general, thus making this collection an important contribution to the international literature. The collection of works describes a wide range of projects where the focus has been on improving the literacy and numeracy outcomes for Indigenous students. The chapters take various approaches to improving these outcomes and have very different foci. These foci include aspects of literacy, numeracy, curriculum, leadership, ICTs, whole school planning, policy, linguistics, and Indigenous perspectives. Most of the chapters report on large scale projects that have used some innovation in their focus. The book draws together these projects so that a more connected sense of the complexities and diversity of approaches can be gleaned. Athapaskan Migrations R. G.

Matson, Martin P. R. Magne, 2019-07-02 Migration as an instrument of cultural change is an undeniable feature of the archaeological record. Yet reliable methods of identifying migration are not always accessible. In Athapaskan Migrations, authors R. G. Matson and Martin P. R. Magne use a variety of methods to identify and describe the arrival of the Athapaskan speaking Chilcotin Indians in west central British Columbia. By contrasting two similar geographic areas using the parallel direct historical approach, the authors define this aspect of Athapaskan culture. They present a sophisticated model of Northern Athapaskan migrations based on extensive archaeological, ethnographic, and dendrochronological research. A synthesis of 25 years of work, Athapaskan Migrations includes detailed accounts of field research in which the authors emphasize ethnic group identification, settlement patterns, lithic analysis, dendrochronology, and radiocarbon dating. Their theoretical approach will provide a blueprint for others wishing to establish the ethnic identity of archaeological materials. Chapter topics include basic methodology and project history, settlement patterns, and investigation of both the Plateau Pithouse and British Columbia Athapaskan Traditions, regional surveys, and settlement patterns excavated Plateau Pithouse Tradition and Athapaskan sites, and their dating, ethnic identification of recovered material, the Chilcotin migration in the context of the greater Pacific Athapaskan, Navajo and Apache migrations, and summaries and results of the excavations. The text is abundantly illustrated with more than 70 figures and includes access to convenient online appendixes. This substantial work will be of special importance to archaeologists, anthropologists, linguists, and scholars in Athapaskan studies and Canadian First Nation studies. Elicitive Conflict Transformation and the Transrational Shift in Peace Politics W.
