

Personal Autobiography

My name is Amanda L. Winter. I was born on 17 March, 1983 in Lexington, Kentucky, where I lived until the time I went to college in another state. I'm the fourth child and the only girl in a family of five. My father, Mr. Paul Winter is a retired physician and he currently runs a drug store within the city.

My mother, Mrs. Beverly Winter was a registered nurse working for various medical institutions across the state, until she decided to retire in 2010. Nowadays, she helps dad run the drug store. I went to school in Dixie School and Paul Laurence, where I completed my elementary and high school education respectively. Then, I went to Kansas University, where I did my under graduate degree in Journalism.

Growing up around four brothers was not easy, considering the fact that I am a girl. With all the masculinity in the house, there was a lot of competition and rivalry. I had to be tough as my brothers or I would have been toppled by their naturally aggressive nature. Not that we were a dysfunctional family, it was just normal sibling rivalry and it turned to be of benefit to me.

Since I was the youngest and a girl, I was bound to be at the bottom of the totem pole in everything. So, I had to be equally tough to fight for whatever was rightfully mine. As a result, I turned out to be a tomboy and also built a reputation as a no-nonsense girl. Furthermore, I had older brothers to protect me in case of a dispute.

I believe I adopted both my parents' brilliant brains, because I was always the best students academically. However, my abilities were not limited to the classroom alone. I also excelled in sports. In high school, I was arguably the best female sportsperson in outdoor games, especially in athletics and volleyball.

I have many accolades to my name, however the one that stands out was in my second year in high school. Representing our school in short races, I went to the state competition where I emerged third overall. I was not fortunate enough to win it, but it was an eye opener for me to strive for greatness in life. Fortunate for me, I won the best sportsperson award that year at our school's award giving ceremony.

While I was forging a name for myself in the academic and sports circles, my social life was in a really bad state. My tomboy look was making it hard for me to coexist well with either of the sexes. The girls were scared of my tough persona, while the boys felt intimidated by my confidence and competitive nature.

My wardrobe was full of my brothers' clothes that they had outgrown. All the girlish clothes my mother bought for me, I had them piled in the closet and completely forgot about them. When we went to the stores to buy clothes, I would be with my brothers at the boys' section. This disheartened my mother and she tried to advise me out of it, but I was just too adamant. Eventually, she accepted the way I was.

However, something happened in my life that sent me reeling back to the foundations of my femininity. It happened during my senior year in high school. It was the prom week and everyone was geared towards

Medieval Women and the Law Noël James Menuge, 2003 Legal records illuminate women's use of legal processes with regard to the making of wills the age of consent rights concerning marriage and children women as traders etc Determined and largely successful effort to read behind and alongside legal discourses to discover women's voices and women's feelings It adds usefully to the wider debate on women's role in medieval society

ENGLISH HISTORICAL REVIEW What is really new here is the ways in which the authors approach the history of the law they use some decidedly non legal texts to examine legal history they bring together historical and literary sources and they debunk the view that medieval laws had little to say about women or that medieval women had little legal agency

ALBION The legal position of the late medieval woman has been much neglected and it is this gap which the essays collected here seek to fill They explore the ways in which women of all ages and stations during the late middle ages c 1300 c 1500 could legally shift for themselves and how and where they did so Particular topics discussed include the making of wills the age of consent rights concerning marriage care custody and guardianship with particular emphasis on the rights of a mother attempting to gain custody of her own children within the court system women as traders women as criminals prostitution the rights of battered women within the courts the procedures women had to go through to gain legal redress and access rape and women within guilds NOELJAMES MENUGE gained her Ph D from the Centre of Medieval Studies at the University of York Contributors P J P GOLDBERG VICTORIA THOMPSON JENNIFER SMITH CORDELIA BEATTIE KATHERINE J LEWIS NOEL JAMES MENUGE CORINNE SAUNDERS KIM M PHILLIPS EMMA HAWKES Autobiography and the Construction of Identity and Community in the Middle East NA NA,2016-04-30 Ranging from the early modern period to the present day this edited collection uses biography as a window into the history of the Arab Islamic Middle East The contributors reinterpret the lives of the famous such as George Antonius and Doria Shafiq and rediscover the lives of individuals previously consigned to the margins of history including the notorious individuals of 17th century Syria and the 20th century Palestinian activist Kulthum Auda The book also draws on the biographical tradition of Arab historical writing including biographical dictionaries for an understanding of the region s social and cultural history Interdisciplinary in scope and theoretically informed this volume brings to light individual lives which are essential to an understanding of Middle Eastern history University Library of Autobiography ,1927 Guiding Autobiography Groups for Older Adults James E.
