Financial Systems in Troubled Waters Alessandro Carretta, Gianluca Mattarocci, 2013-05-07 This collection considers the financial crisis from a managerial perspective focussing on the business implications for the financial industry Topics examined include governance information needs and strategy of financial intermediaries and investors The contributions build on the existing literature and present some unique insights on governance credit quality evaluation and performance measurement In a fast growing or steady market it is possible for even an inefficient financial system to satisfy investors and firms needs However the current financial crisis has brought into sharp relief the limits of the inefficient practices adopted by the market and made clear the importance of developing more effective governance mechanisms more detailed and complete information databases and new strategies The crisis has also brought to the fore issues about the governance of financial intermediaries that had not been previously addressed These include board diversity internal monitoring procedures and the existence of interlocking directorates More broadly the financial crisis has radically altered the international framework with an increasingly consolidated financial sector and the rise of new markets such as China that now play a predominant role in the worldwide market Studies on the competition and on the performance in this new scenario are essential in order to understand the implications of recent events

Financial Education and Risk Literacy Riccardo Viale, Umberto Filotto, Barbara Alemanni, Shabnam Mousavi, 2021-01-29 This innovative book explores how the design of financial education programmes could benefit from the findings of behavioural economics and finance and cognitive sciences It covers the social cultural and technological determinants of financial education the role of the banking system in promoting financial literacy and how governments and regulatory authorities are dealing with financial education and risk literacy programmes in schools

Financial Literacy and the Limits of Financial Decision-Making Tina Harrison, 2016-09-20 This book presents selected papers on the factors that serve to influence an individual's capacity in financial decision making Initial chapters provide an overview of the cognitive factors affecting financial decisions and suggest a link between limited cognitive capacity and the need for financial education The book then expands on these cognitive limitations to explore the tendency for overconfidence in decision making and the interplay between rational and irrational factors Later contributions show how credit card companies benefit from limitations in consumer financial literacy how gender and cognition intersect to play an important role in financial decision making and how to improve financial capacity through financial literacy and education campaigns including those addressing developed marketplaces This comprehensive collection of papers will be of value to all readers who seek to better understand the multi factorial and complex nature of personal financial management in today's economic climate

Reframing Financial Literacy Thomas A. Lucey, James D. Laney, 2012-06-01 Scholarship related to financial and consumer education largely concerns itself with the acquisition management and growth of financial resources In a global setting that witnesses increasing competition for natural resources along with diminishing appreciation for human rights a challenge for financial and consumer educators involves developing foundation for bettering individual wealth in manners that respect all members of a global society Reframing Financial Literacy fills this need by providing literature that examines a broad view of financial literacy by connecting financial practice with issues of citizenship along with personal and professional identity It relates these issues to educational theory and practice to provide the reader with information about the relevance of improving social worth while bettering financial wealth Boasting 14 previously unpublished chapters from an international slate of authors and classroom adaptable lesson plans for each chapter Reframing Financial Literacy will interest both teachers and researchers with its exciting classroom activities and its provocative content This is a must work that no education professional should be without Financial Capability and Asset Building with Diverse Populations Julie Birkenmaier, Margaret Sherraden, Jodi Jacobson Frey, Christine Callahan, Anna Maria Santiago, 2018-12-07 Global economic recovery in the aftermath of the Great Recession has not been experienced equally while the share of wealth owned by the richest 3% has grown the share owned by the poorest 90% continues to decline as reported by Oxfam in 2016 This wealth divide disproportionately affects racial and ethnic minority communities This book underscores the importance of financial capability and asset building FCAB practice policy and research during a period when vulnerable populations face increasingly difficult economic and financial realities At the same time retrenchment and privatization of government sponsored social services have eroded the safety net available for families experiencing poverty or near poverty conditions The proliferation of products and services available from both formal and informal financial institutions highlights the need to promote FCAB to avoid and or recover from financial difficulties crises and poverty The contributors to this volume disseminate findings from interventions designed to increase financial knowledge financial management and financial access across several vulnerable populations including immigrant communities Further they demonstrate the need for culturally sensitive FCAB service delivery considering opportunities and barriers posed by past and current life situations experiences and environments experienced by different populations The book is aimed at policymakers researchers and practitioners who assist financially vulnerable people This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Community Practice
