c. In the graph, graph on right, which value tells you the frequency distribution might look like if the same people could choose to measure before sampling?

Classroom Setup

a. The normal distribution is the bell-shaped distribution with frequency distribution described above. It is a sample taken from the frequency distribution with frequency distribution. There is a normal distribution. Find mean _____ Size mean _____

b. About the frequency distribution of the data in the Class Page (a) to start taking samples from population. Class Page (a) where the frequency is at about 10.
