Basic Management Plan for Care Under Fire

- 1 Return fire and take cover
- 2 Direct or expect casualty to remain engaged as a combatant if appropriate
- 3 Direct casualty to move to cover and apply self aid if able
- 4 Try to keep the casualty from sustaining additional wounds
- 5 Casualties should be extricated from burning vehicles or buildings and moved to places of relative safety Do what is necessary to stop the burning process
- 6 Airway management is generally best deferred until the Tactical Field Care phase
- 7 Stop life threatening external hemorrhage if tactically feasible Direct casualty to control hemorrhage by self aid if able Use a CoTCCC recommended tourniquet for hemorrhage that is anatomically amenable to tourniquet application Apply the tourniquet proximal to the bleeding site over the uniform tighten and move the casualty to cover

PRINCIPLES OF TACTICAL COMBAT CASUALTY CARE TCCC The principles of Tactical Combat Casualty Care are fundamentally different from those of traditional civilian trauma care where most medical providers and medics train These differences are based on both the unique patterns and types of wounds that are suffered in combat and the tactical conditions medical personnel face in combat Unique combat wounds and tactical conditions make it difficult to determine which intervention to perform at what time Besides addressing a casualty's medical condition responding medical personnel must also address the tactical problems faced while providing care in combat A medically correct intervention at the wrong time may lead to further casualties Put another way good medicine may be a bad tactical decision which can get the rescuer and the casualty killed To successfully navigate these issues medical providers must have skills and training oriented to combat trauma care as opposed to civilian trauma care The specifics of casualty care in the tactical setting will depend on the tactical situation the injuries sustained by the casualty the knowledge and skills of the first responder and the medical equipment at hand In contrast to a hospital Emergency Department setting where the patient IS the mission on the battlefield care of casualties sustained is only PART of the mission TCCC recognizes this fact and structures its guidelines to accomplish three primary goals 1 Treat the casualty 2 Prevent additional casualties 3 Complete the mission In thinking about the management of combat casualties it is helpful to divide care into three distinct phases each with its own characteristics and limitations Trauma Manual, Fourth Edition Ernest E. Moore, Kenneth L. Mattox, David V. Feliciano, 2003 This concise bulleted manual guides surgeons through the appropriate clinical management of a wide array of situations Distilled from the leading text in trauma surgery this pocket guide includes recommendations for anesthesia pre and postoperative preparation and a new section on the most common laparoscopic and endoscopic procedures 67 illustrations Surgery During Natural Disasters, Combat, Terrorist Attacks, and Crisis Situations COL Robert B. Lim, 2015-12-11 The lessons from this book help surgeons prepare for emergency events that require disaster preparedness usually handled by the United States military including chemical attacks and massive casualty events Written by experts in the field perspectives that come from various combat zones and disaster sites this book highlights the pitfalls to avoid the organization that is essential for success and the tips to help perform surgery in the most austere conditions The book will address situations where surgeons may have to operate on wanted criminals operate wearing chemical protective equipment operate in a collapsed building or even remove an unexploded device The book includes cases from the battlefield that are designed to guide surgeons facing these scenarios in the civilian world There are also chapters detailing the lessons learned from the Boston Marathon Bombing airline disasters and the Oklahoma City bombing Unlike any other current text Surgery During Natural Disasters Combat Terrorist Attacks and Crisis Situations is an excellent resource for all surgeons who might be faced with these events
