The authors examine methodologies of the social sciences and questions how they can enable the task of theological reflection, examine the relationship between qualitative and quantitative methods and highlight the significance of both for the task of practical theology. They also take the reader through the actual process of developing and carrying out a research project using the author's own research as case study examples. Previous case studies include the rise in spirituality, the decline in church attendance, evidence based medicine compared to needs led assessments, the growth in chaplaincy and how it is understood as separate from parish ministry. understand about general practice and being a general practitioner The learning style of the book is based on experiential and reflective principles in keeping with modern educative theory and practice It addresses changes in the curriculum and provides guidance on practical skills the theory of providing good medicine and the larger considerations of encouraging life long learning and professional development This is a relatively new approach in line with the GMCs recommendations and the MRCGP exams The new edition builds on the successful formula of the first by thoroughly reviewing and revising all content Self assessment sections have been added to all chapters and a glossary of terms is included at the end of the book Thinking discussion points have been extended and additional student quotes included
